22. The points raised by Govt. and the replies of the D.S. thereto are set out below in juxta position:—

Point raised.	Answer.
(1) How are the 66 men proposed to be deputed for each investigating centre either to be employed?	Forty four is only the average no. of men attached to each centre. But this does not seem to be borne out by the statement.
(2) Whether 8 centres of investigation are really wanted?	By reducing the no. of centres the area of each centre and the no. of officers to be attached to each will have to be necessarily increased, but the responsibility of each officer decreases in the same proportion & this is detrimental to the efficiency of work.
(3) Whether increase of one rupee all round to the pay of constables as proposed by Govt. can would not meet the immediate requirements, the city constables having far greater chances of rising to higher ranks than those of the Civil & Military Station?	With the introduction of the Investigation Centre Scheme on the lines of the recommendations of the Indian Police Commission a constable cannot rise to higher appointment than that of H.C. constable and that too very rarely provided he has requisite qualifications. Hence a city constable is not in a better position than his brother constable of the C.M. Station. Therefore the pay of the city constables should be the same as that of a C.M. Station constable.

Higher City Supt's Scale.

Serial No.
	(4) Appointment of a dist. Supdt to the cities.
	(i) Chief Inspector quite necessary to coordinate the work of the several Inspectors working in the cities	(i & iii) The Chief Inspector is an officer of the same ranked status as other Inspectors in the city and therefore cannot be expected to control and coordinate their work just in the way it could be done by an Asst. Supt. To coordinate the work of Inspectors who themselves do all miscellaneous work in their divisions an officer of the ranked status above that of an Inspector is required.
	(ii) Asst. Supdt. cannot be expected to do the extraordinary miscellaneous work falling on the Chief Inspector.
	(iii) The comparison with the C. & M. Stations does not appear to be fair as the Police Supdt. of the C. & M. Stations has to look after Ry. police and is a Ry. magistrate whereas the City Supdt. will have hardly sufficient work.	(iii) The no. of crimes in the city is larger than in the Dt and it is likely to increase on account of various causes. The conditions prevailing in the surrounding British territory and not a little to the police work in the [illegible] city. The police work in the Bangalore & Mysore Dts. is far behind that in other Dts. & this is attributable to the impossibility of one officer attending to both the city & the Dt. work.
	(iv) It is only a junior officer that can be posted to the city. It is desirable that the AD. of the City Police should be an officer of sufficient status to deal with the Dt. Supdt. of Police of the C.M. Stations with whom he will constantly be brought into contact in the discharge of his duties.	(iv) Junior officers have been, and now a junior officer is, in charge of both the city & the Dt. and there has been no hitch whatever. On the other hand their relations have always been of a most cordial kind. The D.I.G. of Police & the Dy. Comm. will always be in touch with them & therefore there will be no reason to appre-hend any want of cordiality between them.

GPB—55,000—27-4-09

Serial No.
	(4) There will not be cooperation between the City & the Dt. Police if each be under a separate officer.	(4) No answer.
	(5) The comparison between the city & the C. & M. Station in the matter of general expenditure does not stand, a more proper basis of comparison being a city in British India of the same size and population as the Bangalore City.	The City has to be compared for the purpose of this scheme with the C. & M. Station & not in any other town in Southern India because the situation & surroundings of the latter are different. The city has also its own bulk of miscellaneous floating population & its proximity — almost to blend — to the C. & M. Station should also be taken into consideration in determining the strength of the force required for the City.
	(6) No. of Daffedars may be reduced as they are, under the Investigation Centre Scheme, no better than constables.	The number of sergeants has been reduced from 40 to 25 in the Bangalore City.
	(7) If the D. G.'s proposals are sanctioned provision will have to be made for an annual additional expenditure of Rs 22440.
	(8) It is not known whether the staff & expenditure required for the Shankarpur extension have been included in the above proposals.
	Submitted for orders. (Schedule m

25) The only matter in which the Lg. thinks his original prop Can be modified is in respect of the number Sujants which, in his revised proposals, he has reduce from 40 to 25. Even thus the net increase in Expenditure involved in the reorganisation will be over 20,000 £ per annum.

26) As the question of the introduction of the Investigating Centre Scheme into the cities of Bangalore and Mysore is involv in these proposals, it is worth noting here that the present Chief Judge Expressed himself at the D. R. A. Sittings of the year very Strongly against the Scheme and Said that it had broken down in British Ind In the Representative assembly representations were made against it on the ground that the investigation of offences is delayed.

27) The proposal to place the cities under a separate asstt supdt. maybe approved. After all there is not much difference in pay between a chief inspector and an asstt supdt of the last grade.

28) In regard to the pay of the men the 2 Rs arguments to raise the pay by 2 Rs all round do not seem to be quite convincing. At present an increase of 1 Re would seem to be enough + a year or two hence a further increase by instalments of 8 as a year may perhaps be made.

29) So far as Bangalore is concerned the 29 has shown me it is impossible to reduce the number of stations to anything less than 8 or to ~~reduce the~~ have less than 44 men on the average for each station.

34) It has been already clearly pointed out that cities of the size of Bangalore in the southern and other parts of British India manage with a much less establishment than now proposed. The explanation of the H Q of Police does not touch upon this point in detail and the Superintendents letter argues how with more Constables and Inspectors are needed the city can be efficiently policed.

35) The only distinguishing features of Bangalore from other cities of its size in British India seem to be

(1) its disproportionately large size and

(2) presence of a floating population, consisting of doubtful characters, due to its proximity to the H. Q. and C & M Station [The M also mentions non-agricultural

The case has undergone full discussi in the Fin. Deptt and little can now be added. There are only one or two points in connection with the analogy wit the C & M. Station which can be here referred to. In the first place the incentive to secure economy in the ca of the C & M. Station need not be so strong as circumstances render nece in the case of the Mysore State. In second place the C & M. Station forms m more or less a self contained one wi necessary provision for emergencies; whe such provision is not necessary in the ca of Mysore where the District police and the Base troops in the other parts, can be made available for meeting emergencies in the Cities. It is admitted that with the expenditure of more money the City police can be made more efficient. But on the other hand there is also reason to think that considerable improvement may yet be effected by thoughtful reorganization & readjustment within the present cost. The ~~financial~~ situation as disclosed in the quinquennial review makes it clear that to establish a fairly satisfactory financial position a retrenchment of about six lakhs in the expenditure on Civil administration will have to be secured. In the face of such a situation the proposals to improve & strengthen the city police at an additional cost of about quarter of a lakh per annum cannot be financially acceptable.

28/6/08

[The question of police reorganization in this State must be taken up along with the reorganization of the Base Regiments and the two considered together to arrive at a solution which will be acceptable financially & otherwise. An attempt may perhaps be made in that direction

The changes are -

56) 1. Reduction of the number of constables from 352 as proposed by the Inspector General to 320.

general control of the District Superintendent of Police, instead of having at the head of the City Police as proposed by the Inspector General of Police an Assistant Superintendent of Police from the cadre of the Civil Service and independent of the District Superintendent of Police, whose pay will vary from Rs. 250 to Rs.600, costing Rs.350 on the average. The present force, that proposed by the Inspector General of Police and that recommended for sanction by the Council are shown in the accompanying statement. The increased cost will thus be Rs.16,20[illegible] as against Rs.24,150 according to the Inspector General's proposals.

Bangalore.

15th March 1911.

dear Mr. Puttanna Chetty,

With reference to the nversation we had on Saturday evening, about the rerganization of the Bangalore City Police, I thank u for your having kindly supported my scheme. I, however, beg to urge the following points for your further nsideration.

The City Asst. Superintendent of Police.

If the Government e not prepared to give a pakka Superintendent for ıe City, I shall for the present be content with an officer outside the cadre of Assistant Commissioners; but I strongly deprecate his being made subordinate to the Superintendent of Police, Bangalore District, for the following reasons:-

It does not relieve the Superintendent of Police, Bangalore District, of the responsibility of the charge of the City, to enable him to pay undivided attention to the District work which was one of my main objects in urging for this re-organization. Further in addition to his being outside the cadre of Assistant Commissioners, the fact of his being subordinate to the District Super-intendent will further lower him in his prestige, which I believe you will agree with me, is sure to weaken his hands in maintaining discipline &c., in the

...e City, and prevent him also from moving on equal terms with the District Superintendent of Police, C & Station, Bangalore, - another important object to secure. For these and other reasons he must be indep-dent of the Superintendent of Police, Bangalore Dist. Further to avoid the possible inconveniences of having an officer a fixture in one place, I should be given the choice of drafting any District Superintendent of Police to the City and sending if need be the Assistant Superintendent of Police in his stead.

agree 16/3/11

may be served think

65 The conveyance allowances of Rs.30/- proposed for the new officer is altogether inadequate . It is absolutely necessary for him to maintain two horses, which in Bangalore and in these days of high prices, it is impossible for him to do with anything less tha

Rs.50/-

Rs.50/- I therefore request that it may be raised to Rs.50/-

2. Head Constables & Sergeants.

I understand that it is contemplated to modify my proposals by sanctioning only 16 Head Constables out of 24 which I proposed, and pro-portionately increasing the number of Sergeants from 25 which I proposed to 33. 25 Sergeants I pro-posed is exactly what is wanted for the City. If more are sanctioned, they are a superfluity. On the other hand with 16 Head Constables it is not possible to provide for all the duties connected with the City Police and the City Superintendent's office for which no provision has been made and therefore has to be provided out of this number. On a a careful reconsideration, however, I find that for the present I can manage with 19 Head Constables. I there-fore request that these may be sanctioned.

3. Constables.

Though I refer to this subject last, in my opinion this point is the most important and is entitled to immediate and liberal treatment at the hands of Government. I proposed 3 grades of constables to the City on Rs. 11, 10 and 9 respectively. The necessity for this I have sufficiently explained in my original letter. I earnestly solicit that you will sanction this part of my proposal in its entirety. By doing away with the 1st grade and retaining only two on Rs.10 and 9 the cost will be reduced by Rs.88/- a month. But considering considering the efficiency of the service and the conditions which necessitate giving an increase to the constable, the cost I proposed is not excessive. The number of 322 constables may be distributed as follows:-

1st grade on Rs.11/- 75
2nd grade on Rs.10/-....100
3rd grade on Rs. 9/- ...147

I hope that with these modifications the Government will be pleased to sanction the Scheme.

Order thereon No. dated

The question of reorganising the Police Force of the Bangalore City has bee engaging the attention of Government for some time and the several proposals made by Mr. Carr formerly Inspector General of Police and Mr. D. Devaraj Urs have receive their careful consideration. They are satisfied that in view of the introduction of the Investigating Centre Scheme through out the rest of the State, it is necessary that the Police Force of the Bangalore Cit should likewise be reorganised on the same lines and that owing to the rapid growth o large extensions and the increase of population in the City certain other changes calculated to increase the efficiency of the Force generally are indispensable. The proposals contained in the Inspector General's letter No.810/56 dated the 17th

August 1910 appear to be generally suitable and the Government are accordingly pleased to sanction them, subject, however, to a few changes mentioned below which are necessary and feasible in order to reduce the increase of cost entailed by the reorganisation. The changes are:-

1. The number of Constables will be reduced from 352 proposed by the Inspector General to 320. The existing scale provides for 278.

2. The pay of the Constables will be fixed at Rs.10 and 9 instead of at Rs.10 and 9. The existing scale is Rs.9, Rs.8 and Rs.7.

3. The number of Head Constables will be reduced from 24 (proposed by the Inspector General) to 16 but the number of Sergeants will be increased from 25 to 33. The existing sanctioned number is 6 Head Constables and 40 Sergeants.

4. Instead of having at the head of the City Police, as proposed by the Inspector General, an Assistant Superintendent

of Police from the cadre of the Civil Se:
vice who will be independent of the District Superintendent of Police and whose pay will vary from Rs.250 to Rs.600, cos ing Rs.350 on the average, it is conside:
ed sufficient to have an Assistant Super intendent of Police whose appointment wi:
be outside the cadre of the Civil Servic whose pay will be fixed at Rs.250 plus Rs.30 (horse allowance) and who will be subordinate to and subject to the genera:
control of the District Superintendent o: Police.

The increased cost of the schei as thus sanctioned will be Rs.16,206 as against Rs.24,150 according to the Inspe tor General's proposals. A statement showing the present scale, that proposed by the Inspector General and the scale a: sanctioned by Government is appended.

The new scheme should be brough into effect from the commencement of the for should be made in the Budget for 1911

Bangalore.

25th May 1911.

In acknowledging receipt of your D.O. letter No.2321 dated the 19th instant, I beg to thank you for having given me another opportunity to express my views on the re-organization of the Police force in the Bangalore City. The proposals as finally decided by Govern ment provide for almost all the requirements except two or three points which deserve the reconsideration of overnment. These points are the status of the Asst.. Super- intendent of Police, the amount of horse allowance to im and an office Establishment for him.. They were dis- cussed in my D.O. No.92 dated 16-3-1911 to Mr.K.P.Puttanna hetty and I believe he has brought my views to your notice

egards the status of the Asst. Superintendent of Police, it is very necessary that he should be independent of the District Superintendent of Police.

By making him subordinate to the District Superintendent, the conditions of things will more or less be what they are now. The District Superintendent is not entirely freed from his responsibilities in regard to City matters.

The foremost object of the re-organization has been to relieve him of his duties in connection with the City, to afford him more time to devote his undisturbed attention to the District work, which at present is far from satisfactory, due to less frequent visits by the Superintendent to the Stations in the District. If, as it is now decided, the Asst. Superintendent is made subject to the general control of the District Superintendent, he

he has no liberty of action and will have to seek in-structions from the District Superintendent - which means delay in the disposal of work and his position will be no better than that of an Inspector. The correspondenc between the City and the C & M Station Police is of ever day occurrence. If the City Superintendent is not an in-dependent officer, the District Superintendent, C & M Station will necessarily communicate with the District Superintendent and not with the City ~~Asst~~. Superintenden
This again means delay in despatch of work and additiona responsibility to and constant interference with the wor of the District Superintendent. In the interests of better administration of the Police both in the City and the District, it is proposed to make the City ~~Asst~~. Supe -intendent independent of the District Superintendent. I speak

speak from my experience as the District Superintendent and Deputy Commissioner of the Bangalore District, that it is high time that the Police administration of the City and the District is placed in entirely independent hands. I am thus emphatically of opinion that the City Superintendent should, in no way, be subjected to the control of the District Superintendent of Police.

3. In this connection I beg to suggest that the designation of "Asst. Superintendent of Police" be changed to "City Superintendent" The latter designation conveys more dignity and will serve to distinguish between the officers who are the executive head of the two forces, viz., the District and the City. There may be difference in pay between the District Super-intendent of C & M Station and the City Superintendent, but but their status will be the same so long as the latter is an independent officer.

I again urge that the City Superintendent to be given no less than Rs 50/- as horse allowance as it is necessary that he should maintain two horses to enable him to move about in the City both morning and evening and at times during nights. He will have too much knocking about. One animal will not help him to do his work. The source from which this extra expenditure should be met is shown below.

The Government have decided to increase the number of Sergeants from 25 to 33. A larger number of these petty officers than 25 is unnecessary. This superfluous number of 8 Sergeants will cost Government Rs 116/ i.e., Rs 116/- is the difference in cost of Sergeants between my proposal and that decided by Government.

As no provision has been made to give an office Establish-ment to the City Superintendent, I propose that a Head Constable on Rs25/- , another on Rs20/-, one Sergeant on Rs16/- and a 2nd on Rs14/- be given to the City Superintendent for office work. The Prosecuting Inspector will be, in addition, Head Quarter Inspector, and will be responsible for the City Superintendent's Office work.
I propose to give him a bicycle allowance of Rs8/- per mensem. I would also give Rs10/- a month to the City Superintendent's office for contingent expenses. All this will come to Rs93/- a month. With the horse allow-ance of the City Superintendent raised from 30 to 50, the total cost involved in the above modifications will.

will be ₹113/- leaving ₹3/- a month as savings to Government.

6. (65) The number of Head Constables and Sergeants including those who are provided for the office will be 18 and 27 respectively against 16 and 33 proposed by Government.

7. (66) I hope that these modifications will meet with your approval.

Yours sincerely,

Police File. No 189-17-5

Submitted to His Highness.

The question of reorganising the Police force of the Bangalore City has been under consider tion for some years past. The need for the reorgan sation arises chiefly from the introduction of the Investigation Centre Scheme throughout the rest of the State and the desirability of introducing the same scheme into the Bangalore City, and, secondly the growth of the extensions of the City.

2. The cost of the existing Police force in angalore City is Rs.39,642 per annum. The cos reorganisation according to the latest pro- s of the Inspector General of Police is Rs.63,

3. The proposals have been considered in Cou The Council has accepted Mr. Devaraj Urs' pro s, with a few modifications indicated in the C esolution, which reduce the cost to Rs.55,848

4. The main features of the reorganisation a ted by the Council are as follows:-

(1) There will be an Assistant Superintendent arge of the City Police who will be outside th

Cur file 249/189 of 1902-E cadre of the Civil Service, and will get a pay of Rs.250 with a horse allowance of Rs.30.

(2) Instead of 1 Chief Inspector, 2 Division Inspectors, 6 Head Constables, 40 Sergeants and 278 Constables there will be 5 Inspectors, 16 Head Constables, 33 Sergeants and 320 Constables.

(3) The pay of the Constables will be fixed at Rs.1 and 9, instead of Rs.9, 8 and 7 as at present.

4. A draft Government order prepared in accordance with the Council Resolution was sent demi-officially to the Inspector General of Police for any further representations he might wish to make. His remarks are contained in his D.O.No.108 dated 25th May 1911. He proposes to reduce the number of sergeants from 33 to 25 with a view to find the funds required (1) for providing an office establishment for the Assistant Superintendent consisting of 2 Head Constables and 2 Sergeants, at a cost of Rs.75, with the Prosecuting Inspector doing the duties of Head Quarter Inspector and getting a bicycle allowance of Rs.8; also office contingencies Rs.10. (2) for increasing the horse allowance of the Assistant Superintendent from Rs.30 to Rs.50. The total cost is thus reduced by Rs.3 a month. This modification may be sanctioned.

Police Pol. M. 0183 & 1907. 75

6. The Inspector General is also of opinion that proposal of the Council to place the Assistant Superendent under the District Superintendent of Bangalore ld not be advantageous. He is strongly of opinion that the Assistant Superintendent should be independent and that his designation should be changed to "City Superintendent". The First Councillor agrees in this view (vide his remarks on the margin of the Inspector General's D.O. No.92 dated 15th March 1911). I am however doubtful of the desirability of this modification, and submit the matter for His Highness' orders.

7. The draft of the Government Order sent to the ctor General of Police proposes to bring the reorganisation into effect from the beginning of the next official year. As it involves a recurring additional charge of Rs.16,170, and as the budget for 1911-12 will be one in which it would be difficult or even impossible to make this additional provision, the question when the reorganisation now recommended should be given effect to will, if approved, be considered at the time of passing the final budget and postponed to 1st July 1912 if this be unavoidable.

The Palace, My

21st June

My dear Sir,

I am directed to return the File relating the reorganization of the Bangalore City Police Force and say that while His Highness fully recognizes the need for reorganization, he is reluctant to accord his assent to s a large increase in recurring expenditure as that propose unless savings can be found from some other source to mee the extra cost involved.

There appears to be little likelihood of money required being made available in this Year's Budget and there is therefore no urgency about sanctioning the p posals. His Highness would prefer therefore to defer pas orders on the reorganization scheme until it can be ascer ed whether some savings cannot be effected in the Militar expenditure of the State.

His Highness has long thought that the Lo Service Cavalry detachment and the Barr Infantry Regiment stationed at Shimoga are really not needed by the state s he will be obliged if you will, in consultation with the Inspector General of Police, the Chief Commandant of Sta Troops and Col. Jones, furnish him with information on t following points:-

(1) The strength of the Cavalry and Infantry Shimoga.

(2) What duties they perform?

(3) What is their cost per annum.

(4) What probable savings could be effected they were disbanded.

(5) Whether the Reserve Police could take th

PRIVATE SECRETARY MYSORE

place and do their work ?

(6) If extra Police would be required in order to replace the Military, what would be the probable cost of the extra force required. His Highness would be glad of your own and the Council's opinion on this important matter.

Yours sincerely,

162 The subject of reducing the Military expenditure is also before the Retrenchment Committee, but somehow or other (~~mainly owing to the difficulty of all members meeting together~~) it has not been possible to arrive at a definite Conclusion. It is however certain that any saving out of it would be available for this purpose.

163 The need for reorganising the Police in the Bangalore city was fully discussed & considered. As the improvement is a very desirable one, I think the original proposals may be sanctioned.

NOTE—Contn. sheet.

GDB—20,000—20-1-12

Submitted to His Highness.

164 The accompanying papers relate to the reorganization of the Bangalore City Police.

165 2. The question was considered at a meeting of the Council held on the 2nd, 4th and 8th of March 1911 and after further consultation with the Inspector General of Police, the resolution of the Council was submitted with my recommendations for His Highness' orders with my submission note dated 18th June 1911. The main features of the reorganization as accepted by the Council are indicated at para 4 of that note and at para 5 certain modifications proposed by the Inspector General of Police are mentioned.

166 3. The file was returned with Mr. Campbell's D.O. letter No.396 dated 21st June 1911, wherein, while recognizing the need for a reorganization, reluctance was expressed to accord sanction to such a large increase in recurring expenditure, unless savings could be found from some other source to meet the extra cost involved and an enquiry was made as to whether some savings could not be effected in the Military expenditure of the State.

167 4. As desired in the letter the Inspector General of Police, the Chief Commandant of State Troops and Col.Jone have been consulted and their replies are on the file. The information called for at para 3 of Mr. Campbell's letter ha been summarised at para 151 of the office note.

5. The file has again been circulated to the Councillors. The Second Councillor is in agreement with the opinic that the detachment of the Local Service Regiment and the battalion of the Barr Force stationed at Shimoga should not be disbanded and that the reserve Police Force with its present strength will not be able to take up the duties of the guarding of treasuries which the Barr Sepoys are doing without considerable augmentation and that the present reorganiz tion may be disposed of independently on its own merits.

6. The First Councillor is of opinion that the consideration of the present question need not be deferred as is certain that any saving out of the present military expenditure as the result of the labours of the Retrenchment Committee, would be available for this purpose and that as the improvement is a very desirable one, the original proposals may be sanctioned.

7. A reference to the discussions in the Retrenchment Committee File put up, would appear to show that there is very little scope if at all of any savings being effected from reduction or readjustment of the military strength of the State and under the circumstances the present question has to be tackled independently and decided on its own merits. It must be remembered that in the adjoining Civil and Military Station the pay and prospects of the Police Force have for some time past been placed on a satisfactory footing and we cannot afford to lose any more time in improving the condition of our force if we are to prevent discontent and demoralization in the force.

171 8. The proposals that are now before the Government for sanction are -

(1) The appointment of an Assistant Superintendent in charge of the Bangalore City Police who will be outside the 'cadre' of the Civil Service and will get a pay of Rs.250 with a horse allowance of Rs.50.

(2) Instead of 1 Chief Inspector, 2 Division Inspectors, 6 Head Constables, 40 Sergeants and 278 Constables, there will be in addition to the Assistant Superintendent, 5 Inspectors, 18 Head Constables, 27 Sergeants and 320 Constables including the office establishment proposed for the office of the Assistant Superintendent.

(3) The Prosecuting Inspector will get a bicycle allowance of Rs.8 and a sum of Rs.10 is to be allowed as office contingencies for the Assistant Superintendent's Office.

(4) The pay of the Constables will be fixed at Rs.10 and 9 instead of Rs.9, 8 and 7 as at present.

172 9. The above proposals are well conceived and may l sanctioned. There is also another matter for the orders His Highness, viz. whether the Assistant Superintendent o the City should be independent of the District Superintende:

of Bangalore District.

Owing to strong financial ob-jections, the scheme relating to the two cities was reserved for further consideration and the pro-posals regarding the two Districts excluding the with the reorganization of the Barr Regiment and the two considered together to arrive at an accepatble lution. The subject was then discussed in Council and the following modified proposals were approved the Council.

(1) Reduction of the number of constables from 352 as proposed by the Inspector General to 320 (the existing scale provides for 278).

(2) Fixing the pay of constables at Rs. 10 and 9 instead of Rs. 11, 10 & 9 as proposed by the Inspect General.

(3) Reducing the number of Head Constables from 24 (as proposed by Inspector General) to 16 and increasing Sergenats from 25 to 33.

(4) Placing an Assistant Superintendent of Police at the head of the City Police on a pay of Rs. 250 plus 30 who will be subject to the general control the District Superintendent of Police.

176 The increased cost of the proposals as modified by Government will be Rs. 16,206 as against Rs.24,1 according to the Inspector General's proposals.

177 The proposals were then submitted to His Highnes for orders with the modification that the number of Sergeants be reduced from 33 to 25 ~~and~~ the resulti saving being utilized for providing for office expenses to the Assistant Superintendent of Police. 178 Col. Desaraj Urs, Col. Jones and the Inspector General of Police were consulted and they are not favour of disbanding the detachment of Cavalry and Infantry stationed at Shimoga. The Councillors were of opinion that the reorganization of the Ban lore City Police may be decided independantly of t question of the readjustment of the Military Stren of the State, as a reference to the discussions in Retrenchment Committee would appear to show that t there is little scope of any savings being effecte there. The file was again submitted to His Highne for orders with the recommendation that the questi of Police Reorganization may be decided on its own merits.

the Council. His proposals involve an extra cost of Rs 4080 per annu on this head alone. There does not seem to be any necessity for this increase. When the draft of a Govt Order fixing the number of Head
Constables at 16 and Sergeants a 33 or 49 in all was sent to the late Mr D. Devaraja Urs, the I I.G. of Police, for criticism, he stated in his reply (D.O. dated 25-5-1911) that a large number of Sergeants th 25 was unnecessary. He thus agree to have only 16 H? Constables + 25 Sergeants ie 41 in all. He however suggested that 4 more of these offic may be given to the City Sup? of Police for office work. But as the present I.G. does not propose th the creation of a City Sup? of Police the addl four hands are not necessary. The present I.G. has not given any reasons why a larger number of these officers are wanted
now. Considering also the fact that 2 new Sub Inspectors are proposed to be appointed, it will quite suffice if the number of 4th Constables is fixed at 40. The I.G. suggests that an allowance of Rs 6 to each of them as a Cycle allowance. This may be reduced to Rs 5; and the scale of 4th Constable fixed as follows:-

			Total cost
1st Class	6	on Rs 25+5	- Rs 180
2nd Class	14	on 20+5	- 350
3rd Class	20	on 16+5	- 420
			Rs. 950

By this arrangement, the whole of the extra cost of Rs 4080 per annum on this head as proposed by the I.G. can be avoided.

V Constables. It is with regard to this, the I.G's present proposal differs considerably from the one accepted by the Council. He wants 380 Constables in three Grades of on a pay of Rs 11, 10, 9 respectively; the Council have fixed the number at 320 in two Grades on a pay of Rs 10+9 respectively, as against the existing Scale of 278 men in three grades on a pay of Rs 9, 8+7 respectively. It will be seen that the Council have agreed to increase the present number by 42 and to fix the minimum pay at Rs 9 p. m. These concessions seem to be fairly generous; and the D.G. may be requested to content himself with them for the present, as the Govt can save Rs 8640 per annum thereby.

To

The Inspector General of Police in Mysore.

Sir,

With reference to the correspondence ending with your letter No.3062/314 dated the 7th December 1908, regarding the re-organization of the Police Forces of the Bangalore and Mysore Cities, I am directed to observe as follows:-

2. It is proposed by you to increase the number of constables for the Bangalore City from 278 to 352 and to depute 44 men to each of the 8 Investigating Centres into which the City is to be divided. I am to request, in this connection, that Government may be furnished with more specific details as to how these men are intended to be employed and whether 8 centres of investigation are really wanted. As regards the proposed increase to the pay of the constables, I am to suggest for your consideration whether an increase of one rupee all round as proposed by Mr. Carr-would not meet the ~~present~~ immediate requirements. The slight difference between the pay of the constables of the City and of the Civil and Military Station cannot be of much consequence, inasmuch as the constables of the Mysore Police have far greater ~~chance~~ chances of rising to higher ranks than those of the Civil & Military Station.

4 3. Regarding the appointment of Assistant Superintendents of Police in the place of Chief Inspectors, I am to state that Government are not satisfied as to the necessity or the desirability of the proposed change. A Chief Inspector would appear to be quite necessary with a view to co-ordinate the work of the several Inspectors working in the City and an Asst: Superintendent of Police can ~~never~~ not be expected to do the subordinate miscellaneous work which now falls to the lot of the Chief Inspector. In this matter also, the comparison between the Civil and Military Station and the City does not appear to be ~~is not~~ quite fair. In the Civil and Military Station, the exigencies of Administration make it necessary to have an officer of the status of a District Superintendent irrespective of the fact whether there is full work for him or not. As it is, that officer has, in addition to his police duties in the Station, to supervise an extensive Railway police, besides being a First Class Magistrate within Railway limit. On the other hand, the proposed Assistant Superintendent of the City Police cannot be expected to do the work of a Chief Inspect or and he will hardly have sufficient work to engage him fully. Even should this proposal be entertained ~~sanctioned~~, it is only a junior officer that can be posted to the charge of the City. I am to request you to consider whether it is not desirable that the officer in charge of the City Police should as far as possible be a senior officer of sufficient status to deal with the District Superintendent of Police of the Civil and Military Station with whom he will constantly be brought into contact in the discharge of his duties. Again it is of great importance that the Police of the City and of the District should be under one Superintendence and should co-operate in the prevention and detection of crime. ~~Government entertain grave doubts as to~~ It is doubtful whether the proposal under dicussion may not tend to interfere seriously with the spirit of co-operation. I am to invite your earnest attention to this aspect of the question.

4. In the matter of general expenditure on the Police administration of the City also, the comparison between the City and the Civil and Military Station does not stand. The administration of a small isolated area is always proportionately costlier and it does not therefore follow that the City should have a Police establishment quite as costly as that of the Civil and Military Station, though both with its large nomadic, miscellaneous & shifting population may be nearly equal in point of area and number of its inhabitants. The more proper basis for comparison would be a City in British India of the same size and population as the Bangalore City. Besides, as in our present financial condition there is absolutely no room for increase of expenditure on civil administration, the improvements have to be effected, as far as possible by a redistribution of the sanctioned grants and without any increase of expenditure. With a view to secure this object, I may suggest for your consideration the question of making suitable reductions in the number of Daffedars in th Force, who, having been divested, under the Investigation Centre Scheme, of the power of investigation are not now very much better than constables of the higher ranks.

5. I am therefore to request that the proposals regarding the Bangalore and Mysore Cities may be reconsidered in the light of the above remarks and fresh proposals submitted for the consideration of Government at an early date.

I have etc.,

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. J. 628/Police 189-07-6 dated the 27th August 1909 calling for revised proposals in re the reorganization of the Police Forces of the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore, I have the honour to state that the proposals contained in my letter No. 3062/314 dated the 7th December 1908 were made to Government after a very careful consideration of the subject regard being had to the recommendations made by the Police Commission, and I have given in the said letter detailed reasons in support of the scheme.

2. Since the receipt of your letter under reply, I have given the subject my best consideration, and with due deference to the remarks contained in your letter, I still think that the reorganization of the Police Forces in question on the lines submitted by me to Government is necessary.

Enclosure No. four

Submitting revised proposal for the re-distribution of the Bangalore and Mysore city Police forces.

of your letter, vix, whether as many as 8 Centres are necessar for the Bangalore City, I beg to state that, by reducing the number of Centres, the area of each Centre and the number of officers to be attached to each Centre, will have to be necessa increased, but the responsibility of each officer decreases in the same proportion which I need not say is detrimental to the efficiency of the work. As regards how these men are proposed to be employed, I have for the information of Government herew submitted a copy of letter No. A/113 dated the 11th January 19 from the District Superintendent of Police of the Bangalore District, from which it will be seen that 44 is only the avera - not the actual - number of constables attached to a Centre. The reasons for the difference between this and Mr. Carr's pr -posals are clearly explained in para II of the City Chief In- -spector's memo dated the 10th January 1910, a copy of which i also enclosed. I am satisfied, that the number of constables proposed to be attached to each Centre is barely enough for th due performance of the various duties.

4. With reference to the next suggestion made in para 3 your letter, viz, whether an increse of one rupee all round to the constables would not meet the immediate requirements &c, I beg to submit that with the introduction of the Investigation Centre Scheme on the lines of the recommendations made by the Police Commission, a constable cannot rise to a higher appoint- -men appointment than that of a Head constable and that too, very rarely, provided he has the requisite educational qualifications. Hence a constable of the Bangalore City is no better than his brother constable in the Civil and Military Station. For this and other reasons already adduced by me, I am emphatically of opinion that the pay of the City constable be the same as that of a Civil and Military Station constable.

5. The Government seem to be of opinion that the retention of the Chief Inspector is necessary to co-ordinate the work of the several Inspectors and also for the due discharge of the subordinate miscellaneous work which, it is supposed, that an Assistant Superintendent of Police cannot be expected to do, that the separation of the City and the District Police with two independent officers at the head of each body will not ensure the same co-operation as under one Superintendent and that there would not be work enough for a separate City Super-intendent, and that the City of Bangalore should be compared not with the Civil and Military Station but with another equally important City in Southern India.

6. The City Chief Inspector is an Inspector of the same rank and status as the other Inspectors in the City. As such he cannot be expected to control and therefore co-ordinate the work of the other Inspectors just in the way it could be done by an Assistant Superintendent. It was different when the City had one Inspector as its head with Chief constables under him for different divisions. To co-ordinate the work of several Inspectors who themselves in their divisions do all the subordi-nate miscellaneous work, an officer of the rank and status above that of an Inspector is required. I do not think that an Assistant Superintendent for the City alone, will not have enough of work. As it is, the crime reported from the City for the year 1908-09 is 739 — and for the District 698. With the expansion of the City on the one hand, and the ever increasing influx of foreigners on business and other matters on the other, the Police work is sure to assume larger proportions. The conditions prevailing in the surrounding British Territory add not a little to the Police work here. After all the state of crime is not the only criterion by which to judge the necessity or otherwise of a separate officer for the City. A perusal of the Administration Reports for the previous years cannot fail to bring to the notice of Government that the Police work in the Bangalore and Mysore Districts is much behind that in other Districts. This is attributable to the impossibility of one officer attending to both the City and the District work. As regards the suggestion that, to deal with the Superintendent of the Civil & Military Station, we require a senior officer at Bangalore, I may say that junior officers have been, and now a junior officer is, in charge of both the City and the District and there has been no hitch whatever. Their relations have always been of the most cordial kind. With the Inspector-General and the Deputy Com--missioner in constant touch with them, there can be no reason to apprehend any want of cordiality between the two officers wh by reason of their rank and position will themselves be fully alive to their responsibilities. As to the comparison between the City and the Civil and Military Station or some other imort town in Southern India, I beg to submit for the consideration o Government that I still hold the same opinion viz, that the city has to be compared for the purposes of this scheme with the Civil and Military Station and not with any other town in Southe India with as large a population as Bangalore. The situation a surroundings of other towns in Southern India are different. It conceded that the Civil and Military Station has a large non-agricultural and miscellaneous floating population and that therefore a costly police is necessary there. The City also ha its own bulk of such population to deal with. Further, owing to its close proximity - almost to blending - to the Civil & Milit Station, such floating population of the Civil and Military Sta should also be taken into consideration in determining the str of the Police force for the City. My idea in making these proposals is not to make the Police in the City as costly as that in the Civil & Military Station, but to have a force for the City not less efficient. I have not proposed any increase to the pay of the officers of the City. The pay that I have proposed to the constables of the City is only equal to the bar cost of living for a small family, and I trust the Government will be pleased to sanction it.

7 However, on a very careful consideration of the require -ments, I have been able to propose a reduction in the number of Sergenats from 40 to 25 - i.e. doing away with ~~&&&&~~ 20 of the 3rd class Sergeants and adding 2 and 3 to the number of 1st and 2nd class Sergenats respectively. Any further reduction, I am afraid, will seriously impair the efficiency of the Force. I can find no other item of expenditure capable of either reduc -tion or modification, The scheme as ammended above is set forth in the appendix enclosed.

8 I request that you will be so good as to move the Governmer for an early sanction of the scheme.

9. I am extremely sorry there has been a long delay in th submission of the revised proposals, which delay I was not able to avoid, as I had to put off the subject with a view to give i my best consideration.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Inspector-General of Police.

Bangalore,
11th January 1910

No.A/113.

To,

D. Devaraj Urs Esquire, Inspector-General of Police
in Mysore.

Dear Sir,

The proposals embodied the statements submitted by to the Government in connect with the Investigating Centr Scheme of the Bangalore City were fully discussed persona and the bare requirements of the City were finally insert therein.

2. As now required in your D.O.No.392 dated the 9th Jan ary 1910, I , however, submi the reasoned details of the scheme given in the City Chi Inspector's memo enclosed in original for your informatio

3. - First as to the questio why it is deemed necessary divide the City into 6 Inves ting centres:

The old City without th latter extensions was divide into (1)Fort(2) High Ground
(3) Central Divisions, with a Chief Constable or Inspector

charge of each of the first two divisions and the Chief Inspector to supervise the work of the whole City, while being in direct charge of the Central Division. In the High Ground Division five Investigating centres were included, viz,1.High Ground Station2.Upparhalli Station 3. Kelahankagate Station.4.Ulsoor gate Station. 5.Upparpet Station and in addition to three out-posts at Munireddipalya, Gathalli and Pindarcherry respectively.The Fort division comprised four investigating centres(1) Fort Station(2) Kalasapalya Station(3)Kengeri Gate Station(4)Mysore Road Station and three Out-posts at Jayanagar, Lady Road Hospital and Lalbagh.

As the City gradually expanded in all directions, temporary Police stations were opened with a small Police staff to man them, in Chamarajpet, Basavangudi and Malleswaram extensions. In course of time, the extensions passed the experimental stage and grew in size and importance. The inadequacy of the Police force to meet the actual requirements of public safety soon became manifest. When the situation was realised, the late Inspector-General of Police had under consideration a general scheme of revision and re-distribution of Investigating Centres throughout the Province. Preparatory to formulating a workable scheme for the City in the light of further experience to be gained by a judicious readjustment of the existing force, he abolished four of the Investigating centres, viz, Upperpet, Kelahankagate, Fort and Upparhalli stations and retained only 5 Investigating centres as shown in the proposition statement already submitted. The changes involved by this measure affected the working of the Beats in a marked manner. The terrace Beats were done away with. The range of each station with the out-posts attached was considerably enlarged and uniformly sub-divided into four Beats irrespect of other considerations such the crowded state of the locality, the character of the inhabitants, the number of lanes and gullies included in each Beat and the facilities they afford under cover of darkness for the operations of the criminals, the area to be covered by the Beatmen and the time required to traverse each beat &c. The allocation of each Investigation Centre was fixed at 3 Head constables, 5 sergeants and 44 men. This strength was divided into 4 Beat Sections (of one sergeant and 9 men each) A,B,C and D- to regulate traffic and to work the Beats day and night by relief, while the remainder of the strength constituted the miscellaneous section E under a separate sergeant whose day and night duties were confined to station Bazari, Lockup, Court court orderly, escort and detective duties, process service, watching of gangs and bad characters &c. In place of one Sub-Inspector and two head constables in charge of each station in the Civil and Military Station, the City Station was officered by three head constables so as to admit of one officer being always left at the Station while the other was engaged either in court work or in the investigation and detection of crime. The sections are interchangeable once a week and their daily hours of work distributed between night and day by turns.

The system is admirably conceived and adapted to the efficient working of Beats in a well-ordered city. But it postulates, in the first place, the existence of housing-accommodation at convenient centres for the working units. In the second place, each station must be composed of a disciplined body of intelligent and literate men of requisite physique and good character. But our men are mostly drawn from the illiterate class and the City Police service offers less than a living wage to the proper type of men to seek enlistment in the constabulary. The officers and men are provided with no suitable accommodation and owing to difficulty of securing dwelling-places suited to their limited means, they live so far away from their stations that it is impossible to muster them at short notice and to work the Beats regularly on the A,B,C system. Until favorable conditions arise to place the city Force on a better footing by imparting necessary strength and tone to it there is no alternative but to work the Beats on the old plan under which a Policeman working all day finds relief from the performance of night duty and vice versa. Under this system which has been introduced with your approval, the old terrace Beats have been revived and the area of each Beat has been reduced to manageable limits. Under the orders of Government a new station has been opened not far from Dodpeta Chowk and a new Out-post too has been tentatively established for the safety of the newly formed north extension. It is deemed necessary also to re-habilitate Upparpet and Yelahanka Station and to adequately strengthen the Out-posts in Munireddipalya, Seshadripuram, Lalbagh and other places. It may be thus seen that the further reduction of Investigating centres is likely to impair efficiency by rendering the Ranges more unwieldy than they are at present.

4. Next as regards the possibility of reducing the number of Sergeants.

Sergeants like Defedars in the District have had hereafter to investigate cases as they used to do formerly. But the services of these petty officers are still usefully employed in working out clues and handling nuisance and other petty cases which are far too numerous to be taken up by Head constables. The inspection and surveillance of K.D.'s and suspected characters, the regulation of traffic at important crossings, checking the mischievous activities of juvenile pick-pockets, frequenting market-places and crowded thorough fares, the watching of dexterous receivers of stolen property, noting and reporting the arrivals and departures of suspicious-looking strangers, pursuit of suspected criminals, escort of under-trial prisoners to and from the Jail, and of dangerous convicts to be produced before the several courts, supervision of arrack-shops, gambling and opium dens, surprise visits to disorderly brothels and other resorts of bad characters, constitute some of the important items of duties appropriately entrusted to these petty officers, who find themselves placed above the rank of a constable and being mostly of the literate type have opportunity of proving their fitness for promotion to higher grades by rendering meritorious services. A sergeant on Rs.16+5 ranked with the Head constable formerly and until the proposed scheme is sanctioned, he will continue to be in charge of a station as de facto Head constable. They are tried men of experience and though several of them may not make good and efficient Head constables they are yet good detectives; and till they are retired in due course, they may be entrust with the duties connected with the prevention and detection of crime. The same thing may be said in favor of the majori of the sergeants now filling the next two lower grades of that class. Several of them have passed the S.I.O. Test and are very promising. The sergeants of the fourth class on Rs.10/- are mostly employed as Beat Posters. This step is the only prize now open to merit and continued good conduct to be occasionally found in the illiterate section of the constabulary grades. There are now:-

6 1st class sergeants on Rs.16/ each.

10 2nd class sergeants on Rs.1 Each.

13 3rd class sergeants on Rs.1 each.

11 4th class sergeants on Rs.1 each (Propose to be merged in the constabulary)

or 40 in all

The proposed scale provi for 8 in the 1st class, 12 in the 2nd class and 20 in the third class corresponding to the rank and pay of Dafedars who are still retained in the District. Of those who now fill these grades, only a few may be said to be qualified of them are still capable of rendering useful service and have not sufficiently advanced in age to be placed on the retired list. It is by no means easy to provide those especially in the three higher grades with other suitable appointments, even if it should be decided to abolish these grades. But it is not desirabl to abolish these intermediate grades at all. Several literate men have joined the constabulary and have been recently qualifying themselves by passing the requisite test to gain promotion to the grade of sergeants. It would be too much of a jump from the constable to the head constable; and the abolition of sergeants' grades would practically leave many deserving men in the constabulary without incentive to praiseworthy exertions and with little or no hope of bettering their prospects.

These are the considerations that lead me to earnestly ask you to retain the intermediate grades of sergeants on Rs.12/-14 and 16 in the City scale as proposed.

Trusting that the foregoing suggestion will meet with your approval.

I remain &c,

(Sd).L. Krishna Rao.

Inspector-General of Police.

Necessity to have at least entres in the City.

Before the year 1906, there were in the City 12 Police Stations and 5 out-po as shown below with 1 Head constable for every Police Station.

1.Chowk or the old Central Station.
2.Fort.
3.Kalasipalya.
4.Chamarajpet.
5. Mysore Road.
6.Kengeri Gate.
7.Upparpet.
8.Malleswara.
9.High ground.
10.Upparahalli.
11.Yelahankagate.
12.Ulsoorgate.
i Lalbagh Out-post.
ii Gavipur Out-post.
iii Pendarcherry.
iv Guttahalli.
v Cubbon Park.

On the introduction of A.B.C. system(This is not in force now) by Mr. Carr, the out-posts were practically do away with; only 8 stations f registering crime were opene the Yelahankagate, the Uppar pet, the Fort and the Mysore Road Stations having been abolished. As it is, the stations are far away and if there is to be a further reduction in the number of centres or stations the jurisdiction of each station will expand proportionately and that healthy fear which is being impressed in the minds of the rowdies and other bad characters by the presence of a station and the bustling of the constables up and down and the reciprocal confidence created in the minds of the law-abiding will be nullified. Moreover, by expanding the jurisdiction more work is thrust upon one station and though we may give more officers, there is not that easy facility for efficiency and promptness of work as would be attainable if there were more stations with separate officers on whom the responsibility may be fixed. A number of officers clubbed together for working at one station generally create petty-bickerys among themselves and thwart the action of one another. If, on the other hand the jurisdiction is minimised and the local area distinctly specified, there is scope for closer supervision and better control. The responsibility for prime, its prevention and detection, may be distinctly and clearly defined and allotted to individual officers, instead of allowing a sort of a dual control which does not conduce to efficiency or good work.

If this argument should commend itself to the higher authorities, the old Fort, Upperpet and Yelahanka gate stations that are now closed may be re-opened for registering crime without any extra strength or expenditure beyond what has been proposed by the Inspector-General of Police.

The numbers and the jurisdiction of each station has been determined by its local area, population, the incidence of crime, the character of the residents, the importance of the locality as determined by the business transacted, the wealth the nature of the houses and their situation &c. Taking all these factors into consideration, it is not possible to reduce the number of centres or registering stations any further. The present and the proposed 8 stations are all important ones and the abolition of any one of these stations by merging one in the limits of another will render the "reformed" station very unwieldy not to speak of the discontent of the public caused by the transfer of stations.

II

Distribution of the 44 men allotted to each station.

According to the proposal submitted by Mr. Carr the whole city is divided into 8 stations with 4 beats for each station by day and night, each beat being manned by 4 men giving a total of 96 32 constables.

The extra 12 constables allotted to each of the 8 stations were meant to be utilized as shown below:-

"For the escort of prisoners from the Jail to the various courts in the City and for preserving order therein. | 2 from each static

"For detective duty and patrolling in mufti in the station limits.

"For orderly duty at the several officers' and offices.

"For serving processes, for escort of gangs, escort of accused from station to courts, escort of opium boxes, escort of convicts to muffusil courts &c.

"For casualties to discharge duties of constables on the sick list or absent on leave. To constitute a reserve for the discharge of the several duties, such as, escort of religious processions, public functions, lectures, entertainments &c.

It may be mentioned here, that this uniform distribution of 8 beats for each station on the A.B.C. system was found impracticable owing to the large extent of the area of each station and the absence of lines and the paucity of men and, with the approval of the Inspector-General of Police this system was discontinued.

It is proposed, if the scheme of the Inspector-General of Police is sanctioned Government, to ivide the City ...

46 standing beats and 22 patrolling beats by day and 62 night patrol beats and 7 terrace beats by nights, and the distribution of the force is shown in detail in the annexed statement which provides for all kinds of duties that are now being discharged by the City Force.

In Madras and other important places, the system of working is, that, 1 Inspector has got 2 or 3 stations; each has 2 Sub-Inspectors, one for purely investigation of cases, station work and the other for regulation of traffic, discipline, checking of beats and other miscellaneous duties. Each Sub-Inspector has 3 or 4 Head constables to help him and following the same principle, the officers and men shown in page 6 of the enclosed printed statement have been distributed over the several Police stations.

The new extensions of Basavanagudi, Shankrapur, Malleswara, Chamarajpet, Transport and silledar Lines, as also the health camps, in consequence of the recrudescence of plague have necessitated the opening of the following Out-posts for the watch and ward of persons and property, scattered all over in half-built and insecure houses which afford an easy access even to the amateur burglars.

1.Guttanalli Out-post.
2.Mysore Road "
3.Shankrapur "
4.Upparhalli and Mavalli. "
5.Lalbagh. "
6.Cubbon Park "
7.Gavipur "
8.Munireddipalya "
9.Pendarcherry. "
10.Agrahar-Magady road. " 11.Sunkenahalli "

each manned by one sergeant and 6 constables.

City C.I.D.

The situation of the City abutting the Civil and Military Station and the Taluk limits, its access by Railways to Mysore, Bowringpet, Madras and other stations on the Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway, and the demand for labour in the local mills &c, have induced many a foreigner, K.D., previous convicts and suspects and other undesirable characters to look up this side and the number of bad character Rolls that are being received from the moffusil Police are on the increase. A separate staff is a desideratum for the discharge of the several duties of the kind enumerated in the City Police Administration Report for 1908-09, and I propose utilising one Head constable, one sergeant and 16 constables for this work at the rate of 2 for each station, though in Madras this kind of work is taken up exclusively by officers of the status of Sub-Inspectors or Head constables.

Court duty and Escort.

The escort of [illegible] the Chief Court, the Sessions Court, Assistant Commissioner's Court and the several magistrates' courts and the preservation of order therein, is an important work and several complaints have been received from the Chief Court in the matter.

To avoid all such, there is a necessity to depute 1 Head constable, 1 sergeant and 12 constables for the safe custody of the prisoners and their escort to and from the courts. Of course, if the circumstances permit, the services of the head constables will be utilised for the prosecution of petty cases under the Police Regulation and other Local Laws. The enclosed statement will show in detail at a glance the distribution of the proposed force.

III

Proposal to reduce the number of sergeants

No doubt it is true that the Defedars or sergeants have been divested of the power of investigation, but in a place, like the Bangalore City, which is expanding day after day and in which the number of petty offences under the special or local laws is always on the increase. The sergeants have to be entrusted with the work of bringing such offenders to justice and putting them up before the Magistracy.

The closer is the supervision exercised and the stricter is the discipline maintained, the better is the work both in quality and quantity which the constables turn out. There is thus an absolute necessity for an agency to be constantly on the move to check the vagaries of the constables.

A man of the status of a constable will not have the grit or official position to command the men of a co-ordinate rank. Every working station requires 4 sergeants 2 per day and 2 per night duty giving each man 6 hours' actual work and 6 hours' hazari for other calls and the Out-post 1, each for night duty only.

It is not therefore possible to make any reductions in the number of officers of this grade without impairing the efficient control that has to be exercised over the constabulary.

Dear

In connection with the proposals regarding the reorganization of the Bangalore City Police (please see the correspondence ending with your letter no. 810-56 dated the 17th August 1910) I am desired to state that the proposals involve a large increase in recurring expenditure and that before they can be given effect to a corresponding reduction of expenditure elsewhere has to be effected. One of the ways suggested to meet the extra cost is to disband the Local Service Cavalry detachment and the Bare Infantry Regiment stationed at Shimoga which are understood to be doing civil duties & to delegate those duties to the regular police. I am therefore to request to be favoured with your opinion in the matter together up-to-date information on the following points :-

(1) Whether the Reserve Police could take the place of the military detachments referred to and do the civil work now discharged by them;

(2) If extra police would be required in order to replace the military, what would be the probable cost of the extra force required.

I am to invite your attention to Mr. Carr's note dated the 24th December 1907 on the subject.

The matter may, I regret, be treated as urgent and a reply sent at a very early date.

Yours Sincerely

12th October-1911.

Dear Sir,

Referring to your D.O.No J 863/Police 189-07 dated 11th September 1911, I enclose herein a memo giving the details relating to (1) the strength, (2) the duties and (3) the averag cost per annum, of the Cavalry and Infantry stationed at Shi--moga.

2. With regard to the query as to what savings could b effected if the detachments are disbanded, I have to point out that it is not feasible to reduce the strength of the Local Service Regiment any more as duties have been falling heavily o it since its strength was reduced by 100 sowars to meet the extra cost of the Imperial Service Transport Corps. I have for this reason recommended the withdrawal of the Shimoga Detachmen to Mysore. On important occasions too, like the Dussera, Birth day etc, even ordinary duties cannot be carried out without the help of a squadron or two from the Imperial Service Lancers. If it is further reduced, the strain of duties will be very great on both the horses and men of the other squadrons and wil certainly impair their general efficiency.

The Infantry Regiment stationed at Shimoga might be mustered out. But as I have already pointed out a greater por-tion of the amount thus saved will have in the first instance to be utilised in increasing the pay and prospects of the Office and men in the other two regiments in order to make the service in these at least as attractive as that in the City Police now proposed to be re-organised by the Inspector General. Any balance left after this, would, I think, be hardly sufficient to raise the necessary number of District Police required to take the duties of the Barr in the several districts. Hence it will be seen that by the above proposal there will be no amount set free to be utilised for the City Poilce.

3. I have nothing more to add to what I have already stated (in my memo of 4th October 1907, referred to in your letter) regarding the reduction. The Mysore Army is not a large one as it is at present. By reductions on different occasions its strength has been cut down to the lowest possible limit. Both the Cavalry and Infantry regiments have their full share of duties to perform. There is no unit of the Force enjoying liesure and kept for mere show. Any proposal of reduction there-fore, now, will not result in effecting much savings. Apart from financial considerations, the proposal also involves a question of prestige and dignity of the leading Native Stat of Southern India and the matter therefore is one for His Highness' decision.

CONFIDENTIAL

92833

Camp Harihar, Pol 189-07-11

20th April 1912.

Re re-organization of Bangalore City Police and your D. O. of 11th September last.

I have long considered the subject very carefully and closely studied the correspondence and analogous subjects of disbanding a portion of Local Service Cavalry and Barr Infantry Regiments etc. The latter involves reference to a great principle and abrue to the State, which have been under anxious consideration of Government from a long time, the solution of which has to be arrived at, foremost, in the Military Department itself, before others can consider whether or to what extent the Police can assume some of their duties. Further, it is more than likely that any curtailment of the Local Service Force in any direction would be needed for more pressing and desirable improvements of the Department itself in other directions.

As to the feasibility or desirability of the exchange itself, I would invite reference to the weighty pronouncement of the Police Commission and Government of India views thereon that 'Watch and Ward' duty, ordinarily, is not a legitimate function of the Police proper, for obvious reasons.

Regarding the purely financial aspect, reduction of Barr alone, I have calculated, will never effect any savings; and the strength of Cavalry reduced will have, per force to some extent, to be substituted by a body of Mounted Police, for important frontier duties which cannot be overlooked. So all in all, in as much as we shall require as many Police for the civil duties of 'Watch and Ward' now performed by the Military contemplated to be reduced, which I fear may not be expedient for reasons stated above, the net savings on that score alone will not be appreciable to meet the requirements of the Police.

The Special Reserve has been constituted to meet special requirements, and the need to maintain it unimpaired is all the more necessary now, under modern conditions than those of a couple of decades ago when it was organized.

Under these circumstances, I request that you may be so good as to obtain early orders of Government for the improvement of City Police, on its own merits, which require prompt attention.

Yours Sincerely

dated 6th June 1912

The question is one entirely of His Highness' wishes. I have told you what I understand these to be, (in para 2 of my note dated 23d November last to the Secretary Retrenchment Committee on the subject.)

His Highness could if he wished nominate the whole Imperial Service Corps as his Body Guard.

Yours truly

g. Secretary to the Government of H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

I have the honour to submit, for early orders of Government, the important question of the reorganization of Police Force of the Bangalore City, which has been engaging my most anxious consideration, inter alia, ever since I assumed charge of the office of the Inspector General of Police. The inadequacy of the Force now at our disposal has been more than once brought to the notice of Government and different schemes formulated for its revision, the last carefully thought out and very modest one being that of my late lamented friend Mr. Dalavoy Devaraj Urs, who had such first hand intimate knowledge of its requirements in all aspects. I have been closely watching the working of this City Police and am fully convinced of the urgent and pressing necessity for remodelling and reorganizing it, more or less, on the lines adopted in the more important cities of our near neighbourhood, to keep abreast of and adequately cope with the growing needs of the times. I have now accordingly drawn up, with requisite modifications, a moderat scheme (as per statement A enclosed), to at least make a beginning, in consultation with the Deputy Commissioner has experience of the City for over five years, and the District Superintendent of Police, which forms the subject matter of this letter.

Enclosure No. Three.

Forwards proposals for the revisio and augmentation of the Bangalore City Police Force.

2. So far back as 18 years ago, the strength of the City Force was 1 Inspector, 2 Divisional Inspectors, 9 Head Constables, 26 Sergeants and 215 Constables. In 1896, a slight addition of 1 Head Constable, 2 Sergeants and 10 Constables was made thereto, and in the following year 2 more Head Constables, 5 Sergeants and 45 men were added. In 1900, on the laying out of the two large Malleswaram and Basavangudi extensions, a small force of 1 Head Constable, 1 Sergeant and 16 Constables was sanctioned, and later on 1 Sergeant and 6 men were given in 1911 for the new Sankarpur extension; so that, with these few additions for the extensions as they sprang up, the present strength of the Force stands at 3 Inspectors, 13 Head Constables, 35 Sergeants and 292 Constables, as shown in Statement B, appended; and for the City proper itself there has not been any increase in the strength of the Force since the year 1897. During this long interval of 16 years, the conditions of life and other circumstances have so much changed that the Police work of the City has assumed such importance and undue proportions, quite incapable of being satisfactorily performed by its Force.

3. The allocation, as specified in the annexed statement C, shows there are 44 day beats, 75 night beats and 19 day patrols to be performed each day, and this alone requires the services of 282 men, besides other duties, such as Court duty, Service of processes,

Station writers, Escorts, Orderlies, City C.I.D., etc, which absorb another 68 men. In addition to this, a Reserve of at least 30 men, far less than the accepted margin of 15 %, is required to meet casualties - such as sick, leave etc -, or in all we want a minimum Force of 380 men, against 292 men we now have.

4. The City and the extensions are at present divided into two main Divisions, the Fort and the High Ground, each in charge of an Inspector, and comprising 8 Investigating Centres, as noted below -

I Fort Division	1. Chowk 2. Kengeri Gate 3. Chamarajpet 4. Kalasipalya 5. Basavangudi
II High Ground Division	1. High Ground 2. Ulsoor Gate 3. Malleswaram

Since the early times, this distribution was effected, local dispositions and circumstances have undergone enormous changes, rendering the existing charges very unwieldy and unworkable and necessitating a more practicable redistribution to ensure closer supervision and greater efficiency. The whole area has to be divided into four separate charges, each under a separate Inspector, as follows -

1. Kengeri Gate 2. Chowk	One Inspector, 3rd class
3. Kalasipalya 4. Ulsoor Gate, including Upparhalli and Mavahalli Out Posts	One Inspector, 5th class
5. High Ground 6. Malleswaram	One Inspector, 6th class
7. Basavangudi 8. Chamarajpet including Sankarpur	One Inspector, 6th class

In addition to these 4 Divisional Inspectors, one Inspector of at least the 4th class, is required solely for the prosecution work of the City cases, as the existing practice of deputing the District Prosecuting Inspector for the City cases as well, has been found to work very unsatisfactorily to the great detriment of the cases of both the City and the District; and the peremptory need for making adequate arrangements for conducting prosecution, which has received so much attention elsewhere for securing the ends of justice, cannot too strongly be emphasized.

5. The present scheme, therefore, provides for one Chief Inspector and 5 Inspectors, as against the present staff of one Chief Inspector and only two Inspectors. A further provision of two Sub Inspectors on Rs. 30 plus 10(cycle allowance) has also been made, for the supervision of regulation of traffic and night patrols, which are of paramount importance in the City work. The regulation of traffic has now become one of the most trying and arduous functions in the Police administration of big cities and demands our earnest and immediate attention. The Avenue road, the Old Taluk Cutcherry road, the Bamboo Bazaar road and several other roads in the City have become most crowded thoroughfares at all hours of the day; and the admittedly unsatisfactory manner in which the traffic is at present regulated is due no less to paucity of men than to want of proper supervision over their work by superior officers. The investigation of cases and their prosecution in courts take up practically the whole of the time of the Inspectors and Head Constables, and it is hardly possible for them to bestow even a superficial attention to anything else. After a long hard day's task, it would be too much to expect these overworked officers to patrol their limits every night again and check the night duties of the constables etc.

They are therefore left to be done by the constables in a perfunctory manner, unguided, unchecked and uncontrolled. A mere increase of men without higher officers to keep a watchful eye on them would be sheer waste of energies, and it is to remedy such most unsatisfactory state of affairs that it is proposed to have two Sub Inspectors, who will work directly under the Chief Inspector, employed exclusively in supervising the control of traffic and in checking the night patrols etc. Such special arrangement of deputing two Sub Inspectors selel for the supervision of regulation of traffic etc is all the more necessary, in view of the expected introduction of electric tramways into the City. Our thoroughfares ar narrow and congested, and traffic over them has become very heavy, and several of them positively dangerous since the advent of motor cars and vehicles. I cannot help accentuating the fear that unless this small additional expenditure is incurred, the regulation of traffi which is already bad and attended with some risks may become even worse.

6. There are, at present, 13 Head Constables (or 6 Head Constables and 7 Sergeants of the 1st class), 3 on Rs. 25 each, 3 on Rs. 20 each and 7 on Rs. 16 each, and 35 Sergeants, 10 on Rs. 14, 14 on Rs. 12 and 11 on Rs. 10 each. 12 of these officers are in charge of stations, with a station charge allowance of Rs. 8 for Chowl station and of Rs. 5 each for the other stations. One Head Constable or Sergeant of the 1st class works in the Chief Inspector's office, the remaining 35 Sergrants being employed in controlling the constabulary and their work. The officers who, therefore, exercise immediate supervision over the constables are these Sergeants, corresponding to Duffedars in the rural Police. They were, prior to the introduction of the Investigating Centre Scheme, investigating petty cases also and eligible for promotion to the higher grades; but now those powers ha been withdrawn, and being generally men of no education having risen only from the constabulary, they have scar cely been able to command any subordination from those under their charge, who are as much their own equals. T status of the officers who are placed in charge of stations and the men, should, if they are to exercise any control or maintain discipline, be distinctly superior to what it is now, and their pay too should be correspondingly raised. It is not also desirable that there should exist any longer two classes of controlling agen cies, Head Constables and Sergeants. It is therefore proposed to do away with the class of Sergeants altogether, as in the Civil and Military Station, and to have only Head Constables, 52 of them in three classes, distributed as detailed in appended statemen C, against 48 Head Constables and Sergeants now existing, the 4 extra Head Constables being employed on C. I. D. and traffic duties - the former requiring two of the most intelligent officers to successfully shadow the political and other suspects and render active aid in the investigation of cases, and the latter, two officers for the control of traffic in the Kalasipalyam and Chowk station limits.

10 in 1st class on Rs. 25 plus 6, cycle allowance.
15 in 2nd class on Rs. 20 plus 6, do
27 in 3rd class on Rs. 16 plus 6, do

7. As is now in vogue in the City, each const has to perform beat duty for six hours, sentry duty the station for six hours and have rest for the nigh the day, as the case may be, on alternate weeks. A c table ordered for day duty has to be at his post at 6 A.M., returning home again only at 6 P.M. All the constables, except those that are actually on duty in the several chowks or crossings, are available at the station for unforeseen and emergent work. The A-B-C system of the Civil and Military Station, which has its own advantages, is really a great improvement over the system adopted in the City, but it is dependent entirely on men and officers being provided with house accommodation close to their stations. Lines for the men have been recognized a sine qua non and integral part of an efficient Police administration, especially with the modern drain on their energies and resources. We have instances of men from extreme Mavalli and Basavangudi sides having to go for duty at the other extreme Malleswaram end ! Under such circumstances and until quarters for the men are constructed, which is merely a question of time and outlay, and the present strength of the Force considerably augmented, our attempts to make the A-B-C system workable with any degree of success, would prove futile. What is therefore urgently needed is to make our present system work better by reforms that are absolutely essential and try to secure the maximum of efficiency with as little additional cost as possible. The City has considerably expanded in all directions and the extensions are also fast growing, day by day, in size. With the march of times and development of the City as a whole, in all aspects, there has not been a corresponding increase in the actual provision made for the safety of the public and their property. For want of men and inadequate supervision, the protection afforded to the people is not enough, as is evidenced by the prevalence of burglaries which ought to be rendered difficult, if not impossible. But we have not men for the performance of work that has absolutely to be done. It has not only a very bad effect in various ways, but has actually tended to several important duties being slurred over, telling both on the morale and efficiency of the Force as a whole.

8. In determining, therefore, the number of constables required for each station, I have studiously kept in view the details of all the fixed and ordinary duties, varying with each station. The present strength is, as already stated, so very inadequate that even the fixed duties such as guards, beats and patrols are being greatly neglected. No tangible attention has till now been paid to those all important duties, prevention of crime and intelligent watch over the itinerary of most dangerous criminals. Bangalore, a very large City by itself, with a population of nearly 80,000, connected with all parts of India by means of railway communication, is, beyond doubt, one of those places where the overwhelmingly important duty of watching the arrivals and departures of suspects, political or otherwise, is of supreme consequence. To meet all such reasonable demands, therefore, the number of constables has been proposed to be raised for the present to 380 (including the Reserve of 50), against 292 we now have; or only a small increase of 88 constables is asked for.

the Police administration more efficient and successful and the Force really what it ought to be - the guardians, peace and well wishers and friends of the people, securing their confidence and cooperation in all that so vitally concerns them - make me bold to respectfully submit that time has come when a change has to be made, for the better, as regards the scale of pay of those most hard worked but ever ill treated policemen. It is painfully significant that in spite of all honest efforts to make a decent recruitment, our endeavours have markedly failed; and in the City in particular, recruitment has come to be at a standstill. For 7 or 8 rupees a month, even riffraffs are not attracted, unless they be hopelessly bad with not a spark of character in them and no physical or moral energy for any work, when only they come in for enlistment, finding it impossible to get employment elsewhere, and readily accept a constable's place, only either to resign it or get dismissed within a short time. We have been compelled to face such difficulties these few years, and I now am informed that there are no less than 40 vacancies in the grade of constables in the City, with as many more absent, or in all 80 wanting, which is nearly a third of the whole Force short for work, with the appalling consequence that where 8 or 9 men have to be on duty, scarcely 2 or 3 can be found. Resignations are being daily tendered even by constables with some years' service, on account of the smallness of the pay and the exacting nature of the work, unlike in the other departments of Service. What sense of safety or protection can be expected in such a big City, from an already insufficient force of 292 men with 80 more short, can better be imagined than described. Overpowered by such overwhelming sense of insecurity and feeling convinced of the absolute necessity to offer at least a reasonable living wage, to remedy the evil which is assuming such abnormal proportions, I crave leave to propose the immediate adoption of the following scale for the present -

80	constables	in	1st	class	on Rs. 11 per mensem
120	,,		2nd	,,	10 ,,
180	,,		3rd	,,	9 ,,

the present scale ~~and rate~~ of pay in the Civil and Military Station being Rs. 12, 11, 10 and 9 respectively. According to this scheme, the extra expenditure on account of the constables will be Rs. 1,402 per mensem, or Rs. 16,824 per annum, which for reasons herein explained is not by any means excessive.

10. To sum up, the scheme now formulated costs in all Rs. 5,671½ against the present expenditure of Rs. 3,433½ per month, with an increase of Rs. 2,238 per mensem or Rs. 26,856 per annum, which considering as absolutely essential for the improvement and better working of the Force, I submit these proposals with a hopeful spirit that Government would be gracious enough to sanction them early and without delay, with the further assurance that I have endeavoured my best to keep down the additional expenditure as low as possible, providing only for the barest necessities that would tend to improve the efficiency of a body responsible for the safety of the lives and property of the people of a vast city which is steadily and daily growing in importance and magnitude.

Sikandar Varadayar
Inspector General of Police.

To

K. R. Srinivasiengar, Esqr., M.A.,

Secretary to the Government of H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Department

THROUGH THE COMPTROLLER, MYSORE GOVERNMENT.

Sir,

In continuation of my letter No. C. 53 dated 10th March 1913, regarding the reorganization of the Ban City Police Force, I have the honour to forward herewith position statement, as per enclosure A, for similarly in ving the Police Force of our capital city, that of Myso

2. The necessity for strengthening the Police of cities has already been set out in full detail in my sch for the Bangalore City, and I need hardly add that the reasons are applicable with even greater force to the ca the Mysore City, with its annual ceremonials and functi during the Birthday and Dasara festivities and other per cal high occasions, when the energies of the small ill-p Police Force are taxed to the greatest extent. These pro sals are formulated to suit the modern requirements of a capital city, in consultation with the Deputy Commissio and the Superintendent of Police.

3. The scale sanctioned so far back as 1897 was 4 Constables, 8 Head Constables, 33 Sergeants and 275 cons and the present allocation of the Force consists of the number of Sergeants and Constables, viz., 33 and 275 res respectively, but of 3 Divisional Inspectors and 8 Head Constables, instead of 4 Chief Constables and 8 Head Constables, this slight modification and change of designation being effected in 1906, as per Govt. Pro. No. Fl.5004-13/Pol.118-04 dated 10th February 1906; vide Statement B. The City has since grown up considerably in all directions, with the formation of Idga, Jalapuri, Karunapuram, Chatnahalli and Lakshmipuram extensions, and the surrounding villages of Padavarhalli, Kannegowdankoppal, Kurubarhalli and Vontikoppal have also been included within the City limits. The Force sanctioned 16 years ago has been found to be too inadequate even to perform the ordinary beat duties. The present beat system has to be carefully revised and the beats themselves materially increased and efficiently manned. There are now 30 day beats and 66 night beats and 9 sentries, for the performance of which we require at least 219 constables. Of the 275 constables, 55 on an average will always be absent due to casualty, sickness, leave etc, 65 constables are detailed on other miscellaneous duties, such as attendance at courts, escorts, service of processes, station writers etc, leaving barely 155 constables for the more important and legitimate police duties of patrol, beats etc. It is now proposed to increase the number of day beats to 34 and night beats to 81, and with the thorough revision of the system itself and the curtailment of constables for the miscellaneous duties, as shown in detail in statement C, the number of constables that will be indispensably required is 296, and with another 24 constables as 'Reserve' for meeting casualties, leave, absence etc, far less than the usual margin of 15 % of the entire Force, the minimum number of constables required for the City is 320, or only a very small increase of 45 constables over those sanctioned nearly a couple of decades ago.

7397-3/J.850 dated 28th December 1897

4. The City and the extensions are at present divided into 3 Divisions, each in charge of an Inspector, with 8

Investigating Centres, as noted below -

A Division	1. Lashkar 2. Mandi 3. Erangere
B Division	1. Devaraj 2. Fort 3. Nazarbad
C Division	1. Chamaraj 2. Krishnaraj 3. Lakshmipuram

The extensions added on to these stations in recent years have considerably increased the work of the Police. The present C Division is too unwieldy and impossible to be satisfactorily managed by one Inspector. Lakshmipuram station with its outskirts of Kannegowdankoppal and Doddaholageri alone is more than enough to absorb the sole attention of more than one superior officer. The rowdiest and most suspicious characters in the City are concentrated within this area, wherein is also included the new Chatnahalli extension, rendering it more and more difficult of management. It is therefore proposed to make the Lakshmipuram extension with all its appendages referred to above, a Division by itself, so that there will be instead of 3 Divisions as at present 4 Divisions each in charge of an Inspector, as shown hereunder -

1. Lashkar 2. Mandi 3. Erangere	One Inspector, 4th class.
4. Devaraj 5. Fort 6. Nazarbad	One Inspector, 6th class.
7. Chamaraj 8. Krishnaraj	One Inspector, 6th class.
9. Lakshmipuram	One Inspector, 7th class.

5. In addition to these 4 Divisional Inspectors, one Inspector of at least the 5th class is required solely for the prosecution of the city cases. 5 Inspectors therefore have been provided for in all, against the existing 3 Inspectors.

6. There are, at present, 9 Head Constables, one on

Rs. 25, and 8 on Rs. 20, and 33 Sergeants, 11 on Rs. 14, 9 on Rs. 12 and 13 on Rs. 10 each. The 9 Head Constables are in charge of the 9 stations, and the whole of their energies is spent in the investigation and detection of cases within their respective ranges, as a Head Constable is the solitary officer in charge of each station. This single officer therefore has no time and is not in a position even to check the duty rosters etc regularly, much less to exercise any supervision over the work of the constables or attend to more essential duties of patrol etc, which are all virtually left to the low paid Sergeants, who are practically the officers that control the constabulary and supervise their work, besides attending to patrols, regulation of traffic etc, too onerous for their calibre and status, and with what efficiency can well be imagined ! As in Bangalore City, it is proposed to do away with this class of petty officers - Sergeants - altogether and have only one class of supervising officers, those of Head Constables. Instead of 9 Head Constables and 33 Sergeants, or 42 officers we now have, provision has been made for 39 officers only, but all of the grade of Head Constables, 36 of them being for the 9 stations at the rate of 4 for each station, 2 by day and 2 by night; and the remaining 3 are 1 for the City Police office, 1 for the C.I.D., and for giving instruction in drill, 1. With this modification and strengthening of the stations with such superior officers, more efficient and satisfactory work can be expected.

7. As regards pay for the constables - The cost of living all over the State has considerably increased, and it is more particularly so in our cities. The Kannambadi project close to Mysore has rendered recruitment for Police service in Mysore even more difficult, and all that was said of Bangalore City in this connection has only to be reiterated here with greater emphasis. It is therefore proposed to have the same scale of pay to the constabulary as in Bangalore, viz., 1st class on Rs. 11, 2nd class on Rs. 10 and 3rd class on Rs. 9, 80 constables being placed in 1st class, 100 in 2nd class and 140 in the 3rd, the total cost of the constabulary amounting to Rs. 3,140 against the present cost of Rs. 2,165 per mensem, with an increase of only Rs. 975 per mensem, which, under the conditions and circumstances now prevailing, is absolutely needed to secure a fairly good and efficient Police Force at the capital.

8. A provision of Rs. 80 per mensem has also been made under horse allowance to the 4 Divisional Inspectors, to enabl them to keep decent mounts for facility of easy and quick motion, and similarly another sum of Rs. 234 under cycle allow ance to the Head Constables at Rs. 6 each.

9. The scheme as now submitted costs in all Rs. 4,433 against the present expenditure of Rs. 2,960 per mensem. This small increase of Rs. 1,473 per mensem or Rs. 17,676 per annum, is not by any means prohibitive or excessive, compared to the vast strides of improvement effected and going on in sister provinces and States and our immediate neighbourhood, and considering the growing needs of the times and the imperative necessity to strengthen and improve the Police Force of our capital city, which, in its present condition, has not been able to cope with the work demanded or expected of it. I therefore solicit that you may be so good as to obtain the very early sanction of Government to these proposals, which have been formulated as most necessary for the protection and safety of lives and property of the citizens of Mysore.

x xclusive of the pay of the Chief nspector as hithertofore or of the ssistant Superintendent of Police s now, according to circumstances nd exigencies, as Government may deem fit rom time to time.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Inspector General.

SIR,

I have the honor to forward herewith, duly verified, the proposition statement in duplicate re the augmentation of the Mysore City Police Force, received from the Inspector General of Police, together with his covering letter No.C.85 dated 15th April 1913. The proposition is to increase the strength of the Inspectors working at Mysore by two at Rs.50/- each per mensem and that of the constables by 42 and to increase the rate of pay of constables on the basis of a minimum of Rs.9 per mensem and to give horse allowance to Inspectors and Cycle allowance to Head Constables at Rs.20/- and Rs.6/- per mensem respectively.

The existing scale of Inspectors is a provincial one and Inspectors of any pay may be drafted for work at Mysore without prejudice to the work of the Department in other parts of the State. The present proposition to increase the strength of Inspectors working at Mysore by two will ~~vertically~~ virtually raise the number of the provincial scale by a similar number in the grade of Inspectors on Rs.50/-.

The existing pay of Constables and Head Constables ranges from Rs.7/- to Rs.20/- and the present proposal is to make it to range from Rs.9/- to Rs.25/- per mensem.

Correspondence ending with letter No. C. *56, dated 10th March 1913, from the Inspector-General of Police in Mysore, submitting his proposals for the reorganization of the Bangalore City Police Force at an increased yearly cost of Rs. 26,856.

(2) Letter No. C. *85, dated 15th April 1913, from the same officer, submitting his proposals for the reorganization of the Mysore City Police Force at an additional cost of Rs. 17,676 per annum.

(3) Letter No. C. 122, dated 20th June 1913, from the same officer, submitting a proposition statement for the revision of the various Investigating Centres and his proposals for increasing the pay of the constables of the District Police Force by Re. 1 per head all round.

(4) Letter No. 524—B. and R. 282, dated 24th July 1913, from the Comptroller, verifying the proposition statement and reporting that the extra cost on account of the two items mentioned above comes to Rs. 34,764 and Rs. 51,624 respectively.

(5) Letter No. *6454—615, dated 21st April 1911, from the Inspector-General of Police, submitting a modified scheme for the establishment of a Central Police Training School in Bangalore.

(6) Correspondence ending with letter No. 245—24, dated 14th July 1913, from the same officer on the same subject.

(7) Letter No. C. *6, dated 9th July 1913, from the same officer, submitting a memorandum showing the immediate requirements of the Police Department.

No. J. 1085-94—POLICE 256-12-5, DATED BANGALORE, 25TH SEPTEMBER 1913.

ORDER THEREON.—Government have had under their consideration for some time past several proposals by the Inspector-General of Police for the reorganization of the various branches of the Police Department. The need for a thorough reorganization of the department with a view to improve the prospects of the force and increase its efficiency has been repeatedly urged by him. He has pointed out that the one great obstacle to real progress in the department has been the comparatively low pay given to the constables. The present rates of pay are Rs. 9, 8 7 in the two Cities of Bangalore and Mysore and Rs. 8 and 7 in the districts. With the rise in prices and other adverse conditions, this minimum pay of Rs. 7 has become unattractive with the result that it has become extremely difficult to obtain a sufficient number of recruits and to maintain the force at its proper strength. In the Representative Assembly also, repeated representations have been made to increase the minimum pay of a constable to Rs. 10. Keeping in view the necessity for the increase of pay to the constables and for certain other improvements, the Inspector-General of Police has submitted during the last two or three years, in the letters read above, several detailed proposals in respect of the following items:—

(i) The reorganization of the Bangalore City Police Force by increasing the pay of the constables and strengthening the higher grades.

(ii) The reorganization of the Mysore City Force on the same lines.

(iii) Revision of the scheme for Investigating Centres by increasing the number of officers and constables.

(iv) Increasing the pay of the constables of the District Police by Re. 1 all round.

(v) Improvement of the Police Training School.

2. The final proposals of the Inspector-General of Police in respect of the requirements of his department are contained in the last of these letters. They are as follows:—

I. Ordinary Police Force—

(1) Increase of pay of constabulary—

	Rs.
(i) To the Bangalore City Force 292 constables at Re. 1 per head all round	3,504
(ii) To the Mysore City Force 275 at Re. 1 per head	3,300

		Rs.
	(iii) To the Provincial or District Force at Re. 1 per head ...	47,604
	(2) Providing a Prosecuting Inspector each, for the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore and an additional Inspector for Bangalore ...	2,760
	(3) Revising the cadre of Head Constables and Sergeants in Bangalore and Mysore	2,196
	(4) Strengthening the Investigating Centres by the addition of 36 constables, etc.	6,096
II.	Railway Police Force— Increasing the pay of Constables by Re. 1 and other changes ...	1,632
III.	Improving the organization and equipment of the Headquarter Training School to meet modern requirements ...	6,400

The additional recurring cost to be incurred on account of these proposals is Rs. 73,492. The greater part of this amount, viz., a sum of Rs. 55,228, is required for increasing the pay of the existing constables including the Railway Police by Re. 1. A further sum of about Rs. 12,500 is required for the strengthening of the Investigating Centres and the improvement of the Headquarter Training School.

3. The scheme as finally revised by the Inspector-General under instructions from Government has received their careful consideration. They are also satisfied that the proposals are reasonable and strictly confined to the present actual minimum requirements of the department. The increase of at least Re. 1 all round in the pay of the constables which is the most important feature of the scheme is urgently called for as much in the interests of efficiency as to secure an adequate pay to a hardworked class of officials. The revision of the Headquarter Training School which, under the new scheme, will undertake the training of constables as well as the superior staff, is also necessary, as without proper training no real improvement can be expected in the efficiency of the force.

4. Government have made a few changes in the Inspector-General's proposals by providing the four grades of Rs. 11, 10, 9 and 8 for the constabulary of the Cities of Bangalore and Mysore and distributing the strength among such grades in a suitable proportion. With this modification, Government are pleased to sanction the Inspector-General's proposals detailed in paragraph 2 of this order. The scale as now sanctioned will be as shown in the statements hereto appended and will be brought into effect from 1st October 1913, the additional expenditure of Rs. 74,764 involved being met from the provision made therefor in the current year's budget.

5. Now that the prospects of the force have been improved and no difficulty is apprehended in securing eligible recruits in future, special attention of the Inspector-General of Police and of his officers should be given for some time to come to measures calculated to improve the discipline and morale of the force.

6. The Inspector-General is requested to be so good as to submit rough outlines of a scheme, for practical action, which should provide for suitable instruction to be given in the Police Training School and for more systematic and efficient inspections throughout the State.

Details may be proceeded with, after the rough outlines are approved, till the scheme meets with final approval.

ANNEXURES.

No. C. 56, dated Mysore, 10th March 1913, from C. Srikantesvara Aiyar, Esq., B.A., B.L., Inspector-General of Police in Mysore, to K. R. Srinivasiengar, Esq., M.A., Officiating Secretary to Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

I have the honour to submit, for early orders of Government, the important question of the reorganization of the Police force of the Bangalore City, which has been engaging my most anxious consideration, inter alia, ever since I assumed charge of the office of the Inspector General of Police. The inadequacy of the force now at our disposal has been more than once brought to the notice of Government and different schemes formulated for its revision, the last carefully thought out and very modest one being that of my late lamented friend Mr. Dalavoy Devaraj Urs, who had such first hand intimate knowledge of its requirements in all aspects. I have been closely watching the working of this City Police and am fully convinced of the urgent and pressing necessity for remodelling and reorganizing it, more or less, on the lines adopted in the more important cities of our near neighbourhood, to keep abreast of and adequately cope with the growing needs of the times. I have now accordingly drawn up, with requisite modifications, a moderate scheme (as per statement A enclosed), to at least make a beginning, in consultation with the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. B. J. Kumarasamy Naik, B.A., who has experience of the City for over five years, and the District Superintendent of Police, which forms the subject matter of this letter.

2. So far back as 18 years ago, the strength of the City Force was 1 Inspector, 2 Divisional Inspectors, 9 Head Constables, 26 Sergeants and 215 Constables. In 1896, a slight addition of 1 Head Constable, 2 Sergeants and 10 Constables was made thereto, and in the following year 2 more Head Constables, 5 Sergeants and 45 men were added. In 1900, on the laying out of the two large Malleswaram and Basavangudi extensions, a small force of 1 Head Constable, 1 Sergeant and 16 Constables was sanctioned, and later on 1 Sergeant and 6 men were given in 1911 for the new Sankarpur extension; so that, with these few additions for the extensions as they sprang up, the present strength of the Force stands at 3 Inspectors, 13 Head Constables, 35 Sergeants and 292 Constables, as shown in Statement B appended; and for the City proper itself there has not been any increase in the strength of the Force since the year 1897. During this long interval of 16 years, the conditions of life and other circumstances have so much changed that the police work of the City has assumed such importance and undue proportions, quite incapable of being satisfactorily performed by its Force.

3. The allocation, as specified in the annexed statement C, shows there are 44 day beats, 75 night beats and 19 day patrols to be performed each day, and this alone requires the services of 282 men, besides other duties, such as court duty, service of processes, station writers, escorts, orderlies, city C.I.D., etc., which absorb another 68 men. In addition to this, a reserve of at least 30 men, far less than the accepted margin of 15 per cent, is required to meet casualties such as sick, leave, etc., or in all we want a minimum force of 380 men against 292 men we now have.

4. The city and the extensions are at present divided into two main divisions, the Fort and the High Ground, each in charge of an Inspector, and comprising 8 Investigating Centres, as noted below:—

I Fort Division	1. Chowk 2. Kengeri Gate 3. Chamarajapet 4. Kalasipalya 5. Basavangudi
II High Ground Division ...	1. High Ground 2. Ulsoor Gate 3. Malleswaram

Since the early times, this distribution was effected, local dispositions and circumstances have undergone enormous changes, rendering the existing charges very unwieldy and unworkable and necessitating a more practicable redistribution to ensure closer supervision and greater efficiency. The whole area has to be divided into four separate charges, each under a separate Inspector as follows:—

1. Kengeri Gate	One Inspector, 3rd class
2. Chowk
3. Kalasipalya	One Inspector, 5th class
4. Ulsoor Gate, including Upparhalli and Mavahalli Out Posts.
5. High Ground	One Inspector, 6th class
6. Mallesvaram
7. Basavangudi	One Inspector, 6th class
8. Chamarajapet, including Sankarnur.

Judicial and Legislative (Police), dated 25th September 1913.

In addition to these four Divisional Inspectors, one Inspector of at least the 4th class is required solely for the prosecution work of the City cases. as the existing practice of deputing the District Prosecuting Inspector for the City cases as well, has been found to work very unsatisfactorily to the great detriment of the cases of both the City and the District; and the peremptory need for making adequate arrangements for conducting prosecution, which has received so much attention elsewhere for securing the ends of justice, cannot too strongly be emphasized.

5. The present scheme, therefore, provides for one Chief Inspector and five Inspectors, as against the present staff of one Chief Inspector and only two Inspectors. A further provision of two Sub-Inspectors on Rs. 30 plus 10 (cycle allowance) has also been made, for the supervision of regulation of traffic and night patrols, which are of paramount importance in the City work. The regulation of traffic has now become one of the most trying and arduous functions in the Police administration of big cities and demands our earnest and immediate attention. The Avenue Road, the Old Taluk Cutcherry Road, the Bamboo Bazaar Road and several other roads in the City have become most crowded thoroughfares at all hours of the day; and the admittedly unsatisfactory manner in which the traffic is at present regulated is due no less to paucity of men than to want of proper supervision over their work by superior officers. The investigation of cases and their prosecution in courts take up practically the whole of the time of the Inspectors and Head Constables, and it is hardly possible for them to bestow even a superficial attention to anything else. After a long hard day's task, it would be too much to expect these overworked officers to patrol their limits every night again and check the night duties of the constables, etc. They are therefore left to be done by the constables in a perfunctory manner, unguided, unchecked and uncontrolled. A mere increase of men without higher officers to keep a watchful eye on them, would be sheer waste of energies, and it is to remedy such most unsatisfactory state of affairs that it is proposed to have two Sub-Inspectors, who will work directly under the Chief Inspector, employed exclusively in supervising the control of traffic and in checking the night patrols, etc. Such special arrangement of deputing two Sub-Inspectors solely for the supervision of regulation of traffic, etc., is all the more necessary, in view of the expected introduction of electric tramways into the City. Our thoroughfares are narrow and congested, and traffic over them has become very heavy, and several of them positively dangerous since the advent of motor-cars and vehicles. I cannot help accentuating the fear that unless this small additional expenditure is incurred, the regulation of traffic which is already bad and attended with some risks may become even worse.

6. There are, at present, thirteen Head Constables (or six Head Constables and seven Sergeants of the 1st class), three on Rs. 25 each, three on Rs. 20 each and seven on Rs. 16 each, and thirty-five Sergeants, ten on Rs. 14, fourteen on Rs. 12 and eleven on Rs. 10 each. Twelve of these officers are in charge of stations, with a station charge allowance of Rs. 8 for Chowk station and of Rs. 5 each for the other stations. One Head Constable or Sergeant of the 1st class works in the Chief Inspector's office, the remaining thirty-five Sergeants being employed in controlling the constabulary and their work. The officers who, therefore, exercise immediate supervision over the constables are these Sergeants, corresponding to Duffedars in the rural Police. They were, prior to the introduction of the Investigating Centre Scheme, investigating petty cases also and eligible for promotion to the higher grades; but now those powers have been withdrawn, and being generally men of no education, having risen only from the constabulary, they have scarcely been able to command any subordination from those under their charge, who are as much their own equals. The status of the officers who are placed in charge of stations and the men, should, if they are to exercise any control or maintain discipline, be distinctly superior to what it is now, and their pay too should be correspondingly raised. It is not also desirable that there should exist any longer two classes of controlling agencies, Head Constables and Sergeants. It is therefore proposed to do away with the class of Sergeants altogether, as in the Civil and Military Station, and to have only Head Constables 52 of them* in three classes, distributed as detailed in appended statement C, against 48 Head Constables and Sergeants now existing, the four extra Head Constables being employed on C. I. D. and traffic duties—the former requiring two of the most intelligent officers to successfully shadow the political and other suspects and render active aid in the investigation of cases, and the latter, two officers for the control of traffic in the Kalasipalyam and Chowk station limits.

*10 in 1st class on Rs. 25 plus 6, cycle allowance.
15 in 2nd class on Rs. 20 plus 6, do
27 in 3rd class on Rs. 16 plus 6, do

7. As is now in vogue in the city, each constable has to perform beat duty for six hours, sentry duty at the station for six hours and have rest for the night or the day, as the case may be, on alternate weeks. A constable ordered for day duty has to be at his post at 6 A.M., returning home again only at 6 P.M. All the constables, except those that are actually on duty in the several chowks or crossings, are available at the station for unforeseen and emergent work. The A. B. C. system of the Civil and Military Station, which has its own advantages, is really a great improvement over the system adopted in the City, but it is dependent entirely on men and officers being provided with house accommodation close to their stations. Lines for the men have been recognized a sine qua non and integral part of an efficient Police administration, especially with the modern drain on their energies and resources. We have instances of men from extreme Mavalli and Basavangudi sides having to go for duty at the other extreme Malleswaram end! Under such circumstances and until quarters for the men are constructed, which is merely a question of time and outlay, and the present strength of the Force considerably augmented, our attempts to make the A. B. C. system workable with any degree of success, would prove futile. What is therefore urgently needed is to make our present system work better by reforms that are absolutely essential and try to secure the maximum of efficiency with as little additional cost as possible. The city has considerably expanded in all directions and the extensions are also fast growing, day by day, in size. With the march of times and development of the city as a whole, in all aspects, there has not been a corresponding increase in the actual provision made for the safety of the public and their property. For want of men and inadequate supervision, the protection afforded to the people is not enough, as is evidenced by the prevalence of burglaries which ought to be rendered difficult, if not impossible. But we have not men for the performance of work that has absolutely to be done. It has not only a very bad effect in various ways, but has actually tended to several important duties being slurred over, telling both on the morale and efficiency of the Force as a whole.

8. In determining, therefore, the number of constables required for each station, I have studiously kept in view the details of all the fixed and ordinary duties, varying with each station. The present strength is, as already stated, so very inadequate that even the fixed duties such as guards, beats and patrols are being greatly neglected. No tangible attention has till now been paid to those all important duties, prevention of crime and intelligent watch over the itinerary of most dangerous criminals. Bangalore, a very large city by itself, with a population of nearly 80,000, connected with all parts of India by means of railway communication, is, beyond doubt, one of those places where the overwhelmingly important duty of watching the arrivals and departures of suspects, political or otherwise, is of supreme consequence. To meet all such reasonable demands, therefore, the number of constables has been proposed to be raised for the present to 380 (including the reserve of 30), against 292 we now have; or only a small increase of 88 constables is asked for.

9. As regards pay to the constables, it has to be remembered that the present scale * was fixed many years ago, when altogether totally different conditions prevailed. The costliness of living and of labour and the desirability of rendering the service more attractive and securing thereto men of good character and reliability for improving the tone and morale of the constabulary and making the Police administration more efficient and successful and the force really what it ought to be—the guardians of peace and well wishers and friends of the people, securing their confidence and co-operation in all that so vitally concerns them—make me bold to respectfully submit that time has come when a change has to be made, for the better, as regards the scale of pay of these most hard worked but ever ill-treated policemen. It is painfully significant that in spite of all honest efforts to make a decent recruitment, our endeavours have markedly failed; and in the city in particular, recruitment has come to be at a standstill. For 7 or 8 rupees a month, even riffraffs are not attracted, unless they be hopelessly bad with not a spark of character in them and no physical or moral energy for any work, when only they come in for enlistment, finding it impossible to get employment elsewhere, and readily accept a constable's place, only either to resign it or get dismissed within a short time. We have been compelled to face such difficulties these few years, and I am now informed that there are no less than 40 vacancies in the grade of constables in the city, with as many more absent, or in all 80 wanting, which is nearly a third of the whole Force short for work, with the appalling consequence that where 8 or 9 men have to be on duty, scarcely 2 or 3 can be found. Resignations are being daily tendered even by constables with some years' service, on account of the smallness of the pay and the exacting nature of the work, unlike in the other departments of service. What sense of safety or protection can be expected in such a big city, from an already insufficient force of 292 men with 80 more short, can better be imagined than described. Overpowered by such overwhelming sense of insecurity and feeling convinced of the absolute necessity to offer at least a reasonable living wage to remedy the evil which is assuming such abnormal proportions, I crave leave to propose the immediate adoption of the following scale for the present:—

80 constables in 1st class, on Rs. 11 per mensem.
120 ,, 2nd ,, 10 ,,
180 ,, 3rd ,, 9 ,,

the present scale of pay in the Civil and Military Station being Rs. 12, 11, 10 and 9, respectively. According to this scheme, the extra expenditure on account of the constables will be Rs. 1,402 per mensem, or Rs. 16,824 per annum, which for reasons herein explained is not by any means excessive.

*1st class Rs. 9 per mensem.
2nd do 8 do
3rd do 7 do

Judicial and Legislative (Police), dated 25th September 1913.

10. To sum up, the scheme now formulated costs in all Rs. 5,671½ against the present expenditure of Rs. 3,433½ per month with an increase of Rs. 2,238 per mensem or Rs. 26,856 per annum, which considering as absolutely essential for the improvement and better working of the force, I submit these proposals with a hopeful spirit that Government would be gracious enough to sanction them early and without delay, with the further assurance that I have endeavoured my best to keep down the additional expenditure as low as possible, providing only for the barest necessities that would tend to improve the efficiency of a body responsible for the safety of the lives and property of the people of a vast city which is steadily and daily growing in importance and magnitude.

No. C. 85—Enc. 3, dated Bangalore, 15th April 1913, from C. Srikantesvara Aiyar, Esq., B.A., B.L., Inspector-General of Police in Mysore, to K. R. Srinivasiengar, Esq., M.A., Offg. Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

THROUGH THE COMPTROLLER, MYSORE GOVERNMENT.

In continuation of my letter No. C. 56, dated the 10th March 1913, regarding the reorganization of the Bangalore City Police Force, I have the honor to forward herewith proposition statement, as per Enclosure A, for similarly improving the Police Force of our capital City, that of Mysore.

2. The necessity for strengthening the Police of the cities has already been set out in full detail in my scheme for the Bangalore City, and I need hardly add that the same reasons are applicable with even greater force to the case of the Mysore City, with its annual ceremonials and functions during the Birthday and Dasara festivities and other periodical high occasions, when the energies of the small ill-paid Police Force are taxed to the greatest extent. These proposals are formulated to suit the modern requirements of our capital city, in consultation with the Deputy Commissioner and the Superintendent of Police.

3. The scale sanctioned so far back as 1897* was 4 Chief Constables, 8 Head Constables, 33 Sergeants and 275 Constables and the present allocation of the Force consists of the same number of Sargeants and Constables, viz., 33 and 275, respectively, but of 3 Divisional Inspectors and 9 Head Constables, instead of 4 Chief Constables and 8 Head Constables, this slight modification and change of designation being effected in 1906, as per Government Proceedings No. Fl. 5004-13—Pol. 118-04, dated 10th February 1906; vide Statement B. The City has since grown up considerably in all directions, with the formation of Idga, Jalapuri, Karunapuram, Chatnahalli and Lakshmipuram extensions, and the surrounding villages of Padavarhalli, Kannegowdankoppal, Kurubarhalli and Vontikoppal have also been included within the City limits. The force sanctioned 16 years ago has been found to be too inadequate even to perform the ordinary beat duties. The present beat system has to be carefully revised and the beats themselves materially increased and efficiently manned. There are now 30 day beats and 66 night beats and 9 sentries, for the performance of which we require at least 219 constables. Of the 275 constables, 55 on an average will always be absent due to casualty, sickness, leave, etc., 65 constables are detailed on other miscellaneous duties, such as attendance at courts, escorts, service of processes, station writers, etc., leaving barely 155 constables for the more important and legitimate police duties of patrol, beats, etc. It is now proposed to increase the number of day beats to 34 and night beats to 81, and with the thorough revision of the system itself and the curtailment of constables for the miscellaneous duties, as shown in detail in Statement C, the number of constables that will be indispensably required is 296, and with another 24 constables as 'Reserve' for meeting casualties, leave, absence, etc., far less than the usual margin of 15 per cent of the entire force, the minimum number of constables required for the City is 320, or only a very small increase of 45 constables over those sanctioned nearly a couple of decades ago.

*Government Proceedings No. 7397-8—J. 650, dated 29th December 1897.

4. The City and the Extensions are at present divided into 3 divisions each in charge of an Inspector with 9 Investigating Centres, as noted below:—

A Division	1. Lashkar. 2. Mandi. 3. Erangere.	C Division	1. Chamaraj. 2. Krishnaraj. 3. Lakshmipuram.
B Division	1. Devaraj. 2. Fort.

Proceedings of the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore,

The extensions added on to these stations in recent years have considerably increased the work of the police. The present G Division is too unwieldy and impossible to be satisfactorily managed by one Inspector. Lakshmipuram Station with its out-skirts of Kannegowdankoppal and Doddaholageri alone is more than enough to absorb the sole attention of more than one superior officer. The rowdiest and most suspicious characters in the City are concentrated within this area, wherein is also included the new Chatnahalli extension, rendering it more and more difficult of management. It is therefore proposed to make the Lakshmipuram extension with all its appendages referred to above, a division by itself, so that there will be instead of three divisions as at present four divisions each in charge of an Inspector, as shown hereunder:—

1. Lashkar 2. Mandi 3. Krangere	One Inspector, 4th class.
4. Devaraj 5. Fort 6. Nazarbad	Do	6th class.
7. Chamaraj 8. Krishnaraj	Do	do
9. Lakshmipuram...	Do	7th class.

5. In addition to these four Divisional Inspectors, one Inspector of at least the 5th class is required solely for the prosecution of the City cases. Five Inspectors therefore have been provided for in all, against the existing three Inspectors.

6. There are, at present, 9 Head Constables, 1 on Rs. 25 and 8 on Rs. 20, and 33 Sergeants, 11 on Rs. 14, 9 on Rs. 12 and 13 on Rs. 10 each. The 9 Head Constables are in charge of the nine stations, and the whole of their energies is spent in the investigation and detection of cases within their respective ranges, as a Head Constable is the solitary officer in charge of each station. This single officer therefore has no time and is not in a position even to check the duty rosters, etc., regularly, much less to exercise any supervision over the work of the constables or attend to more essential duties of patrol, etc., which are all virtually left to the low paid Sergeants, who are practically the officers that control the constabulary and supervise their work, besides attending to patrols, regulation of traffic, etc., too onerous for their calibre and status; and with what efficiency can well be imagined! As in Bangalore City, it is proposed to do away with this class of petty Officers-Sergeants-altogether and have only one class of supervising officers, those of Head Constables. Instead of 9 Head Constables and 33 Sergeants, or 42 officers we now have, provision has been made for 39 officers only, but all of the grade of Head Constables, 36 of them being for the nine stations at the rate of four for each station, two by day two by night; and the remaining three are one for the City Police Office, one for the C. I. D., and for giving instruction in drill one. With this modification and strengthening of the stations with such superior officers, more efficient and satisfactory work can be expected.

7. As regards pay for the constables the cost of living all over the State has considerably increased, and it is more particularly so in our cities. The Kannambadi Project close to Mysore has rendered recruitment for Police service in Mysore even more difficult, and all that was said of Bangalore City in this connection has only to be reiterated here with greater emphasis. It is therefore proposed to have the same scale of pay to the constabulary as in Bangalore, viz., 1st class on Rs. 11, 2nd class on Rs. 10 and 3rd class on Rs. 9, 8 constables being placed in 1st class, 100 in 2nd class and 140 in the 3rd, the total cost of the constabulary amounting to Rs. 3,140 against the present cost of Rs. 2,165 per mensem, with an increase of only Rs. 975 per mensem, which, under the conditions and circumstances now prevailing, is absolutely needed to secure a fairly good and efficient Police Force at the capital.

8. A provision of Rs. 80 per mensem has also been made under horse allowance to the four Divisional Inspectors, to enable them to keep decent mounts for facility of easy and quick motion, and similarly another sum of Rs. 234 under cycle allowance to the Head Constables at Rs. 6 each.

9. The scheme as now submitted costs in all Rs. 4,433* against the present expenditure of Rs. 2,960 per mensem. This small increase of Rs. 1,473 per mensem or Rs. 17,676 per annum, is not by any means prohibitive or excessive, compared to the vast strides of improvement effected and going on in sister provinces and states and our immediate neighbourhood, and considering the growing needs of the times and the imperative necessity to strengthen and improve the Police Force of our capital city, which, in its present condition, has not been able to cope with the work demanded or expected of it. I therefore solicit that you may be so good as to obtain the every early sanction of Government to these proposals, which have been formulated as most necessary for the protection and safety of lives and property of the citizens of Mysore.

No. 6454—615, dated Bangalore, 21st April 1911, from D. Devaraj Urs, Esq., Inspector-General of Police in Mysore, to C. S. Balasundaram Iyer, Esq., B.A., Offg. Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore, General and Revenue Departments.

With reference to your docket No. J 2453—Police 22-07-13, dated the 25th February 1911, calling for certain particulars about the Vellore Police Training School, I have the honor to state that there are two Police Training Schools at Vellore, viz., one called the Provincial Training School for the training of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors and the other called Recruits' School for the training of constables. The former school is under the management of a District Superintendent of Police as its Principal and the latter under an European Assistant Superintendent of Police.

2. The arrangement in force in both the schools is that recommended by the Police Commission. Special attention is paid to the training of Sub-Inspectors, it being entrusted to an agency much superior in quality. The Principal is a carefully selected Superintendent of Police, the staff under him consisting of best material available in the Police Department. Adequate instruction is provided not only in Criminal Law, the Law of Evidence and the Police Procedure and Practice but also in practical work. Likewise the training of recruits is entrusted to competent hands. The Central Training School for Constables is specially recommended in condemnation of those in the districts whose foremost imperfectness being the defective character of the staff employed to train the constables. Schools are further intended to give an uninterrupted training to the constable which was not the case in the District schools where the temptation to utilize the services of the recruits for emergent duty generally caused constant interruption resulting in a throughly imperfect training. All these defects are completely avoided in the present arrangements adopted in the Central Schools. Sub-Inspectors and recruits are accommodated in government buildings called the Hyder Mahal and Tippu Mahal. Strict discipline is maintained. The students remain in the premises all day and night whether it be class hours or not. Between 7-30 and 9 in the evening they have permission to leave the premises. To go out at any other time they should obtain the permission of the Principal. Every one should be present at the roll call time viz., 9-30 P. M. after which the gates of the premises will be closed and guarded. Vide paras 55 and 59 of the Police Commission Report laying down the arrangement, which is literally carried out in the schools at Vellore.

4. Special and Local Laws.
5. Gribble's Medical Jurisprudence.
6. Police Orders.
7. Ambulance.
8. Short-hand.
9. Drill and shooting.
10. Equitation.

Judicial and Legislative (Police), dated 25th September 1913.

The hours of Instruction are as follows :—

MORNING—
6-15 to 7-45	Drill and Riding.
8-15 to 11-15	Lectures in Law.
EVENING—
1-30 to 4-30	Drawing and Short-hand.
5 to 6	Sports or Drill to such of them as do not take part in sports.

In the Recruit School the course is only for six months. Each teacher who is a Sub-Inspector is given 40 constables. A catechism on Elementary Law and Procedure has been prepared and published under the authority of Government. Lessons are taught from the said book of catechism. If the recruit is come from the Railway Police he is given in addition lessons from the Railway catechism. They are taught elementary principles of Arithmetic, the names of the months of the year, linear measurements, etc. They are made acquainted with the records maintained in a Police station such as their names and what they are about.

Under use of power of observation recommended by the Police Commission they are taught to give approximately the number of persons in a crowd, the time of the day by the position of the sun, etc.

They are drilled both morning and evening—

Morning	...	...	6-15 to 7-45
Evening	...	...	6 to 7-30

From 8-30 A.M. to 11-30 A.M., they are taught other lessons. If a constable is backward in learning he is given extra lessons in the afternoon. The Instructors work only 5 days in a week.

5. For the whole Presidency there is only one school for the teaching of Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors, viz., the one at Vellore. For constables there is one at Vellore and another at Vijianagaram. The Government of Madras have it in view to open two more—one at Coimbatore and another at Bellary.

6. When I visited Vellore during the third week of March 1911, I saw both the schools and the above particulars were furnished to me by the Principal of the Provincial Training School, Mr. G. H. Bernays.

7. I beg to state for the information of Government that the two schools at Vellore are maintained in a big state of efficiency. The Principals are full time officers devoting their undivided attention to the management of the schools. The staff which is employed to teach law and other subjects is of a superior order. Without a staff consisting of officers specially selected for the work and highly paid, it is not possible to expect the results to be very satisfactory.

8. I beg to avail myself of this opportunity to propose some slight modifications to the scheme about the establishment of the Central Police School at Bangalore. My Office Assistant is at present the Principal of the Provincial Training School. Since he has in addition to the office work the charge of the Provincial Special Reserve and the Railway Police, Bangalore-Nanjangud Section, he can hardly find time to pay any great attention to the minute details of the working of the school. It is therefore highly necessary to provide for the school a Head Master who is of the grade of the 1st or 2nd class Inspectors. In the proposals submitted to Government with this office No. 3391-183, dated 6th October 1910, 2 Inspectors on Rs. 70, 1 on Rs. 40 were provided. Regard being had to the quality of the work, I would not have for the schools any Inspector of a lesser grade than Rs. 70. I would therefore recommend an Inspector on Rs. 150+20 for the Head Master's place and two other Inspectors as Assistant Lecturers, one on Rs. 100+20 and the other on Rs. 70+20.

Instruction in drill is now under the supervision of the Special Reserve Inspector, on whom therefore devolves heavier work and responsibility. I therefore propose that an allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem be given to him under the Central School Scheme.

I beg to urge the necessity of attaching a hospital to the Central School in charge of a Sub-Assistant Surgeon or a Senior Hospital Assistant. He will in addition be Ambulance Instructor to the Inspectors' and Constabulary classes and also teach medical jurisprudence to the Inspectors' class. For the latter additional duty he may be given a monthly allowance of Rs. 30.

I have in my letter No. 3332—335, dated 25th January 1910, brought to the notice of Government the necessity of introducing short-hand writing. Great attention is paid to this instruction in the Provincial school at Vellore. I think it is high time that instruction in short-hand is given to Inspectors and Jamadars. I recommend the entertainment of an Instructor on Rs. 25 per mensem.

The clerical work in the school has increased of late which is being attended to by the eaching staff itself. This has interfered with the teaching work. I therefore propose that clerk on Rs. 15 per mensem may be sanctioned.

To keep the school premises clean and tidy, I propose the entertainment of a sweeper nd a scavenger each on Rs. 7 a month. This is highly essential from a sanitary point of iew also.

9. The aforesaid modifications are in my opinion very necessary. I herewith submit a tatement showing the difference between the proposal already sent to Government and the ne as now modified. On account of these modifications the monthly cost of the school is ncreased from Rs. 900 to Rs. 1,149 a month i.e., an increase of Rs. 249 a month. In other vords the increase over the existing cost on account of the Provincial Training School at Bangalore and the District Schools, is Rs. 265 a month or Rs. 3,180 a year. I beg to submit hat a better system of instruction by an efficient staff to the constabulary is one of urgent eed in the Police Force. The efficiency of the Force as a whole more or less depends upon he training given to the officers and men. The method of training the constables in the District schools has been defective owing to the inferior kind of staff employed This system s emphatically condemned by the Indian Police Commission in accordance with whose ecommendations the existing Provincial Training school and the Recruits' school at Vellore re run.

10. The cost of the schools at Vellore comes to about Rs. 4,700 a month exclusive of he pay of the two Principals and the half pay given to the Inspectors and Sub-Inspectors ndergoing training. The cost of the schools here, all items taken into consideration is Rs. 1,149 a month as now proposed.

11. In addition to the two schools at Vellore, the Madras Government has opened a Recruits' school at Vijianagaram and is about to open two more such schools at Bellary and Coimbatore.

12. Regard being had to the efficiency which is the object of the proposed scheme I enture to submit that the Government will be pleased to sanction the extra expenditure.
